TITLE CARD OVER BLACK:

An investigation conducted by El Universal, reported branches of the U.S. government allowed the Sinaloa cartel to bring loads of drugs into the U.S., in exchange for information on rival Mexican cartels from 2000-2012...

AND THEN:

... according to the paper, it's unclear whether these arrangements still exist....

1

EXT. SOCCER FIELD -- DAWN

Practically a dirt parking lot. Weeds belched out of the ground, now trimmed down to look like turf.

Shriveled barbed wire sinks into the sand, but still offers extra security around the field.

Soccer balls of plenty litter the single field.

A hilly terrain beyond us, snaked with brush-filled canyon, goes from darkness to sunlight -- this is El Paso.

But we are not in El Paso -- we are in Ciudad Juárez.

-- A ROOSTER TAIL OF DUST --

Two tented BLACK SEDANS arrive.

An ARMED MAN comes out of each car. Probes the field.

INT. SEDAN -- SAME

MIDDLE SEAT. A sea of black hair. A face painted in top-of-the-line cosmetics. She touches up her lipstick. Ruby red. Meet Juarez's "queen", ESTRELLA ARMENDAREZ (32).

Kicking, rattling behind her. She slaps the back of her seat.

ESTRELLA
Stop it!

ESTRELLA
Ya paren!

BACK SEAT: ARTURO ARMENDAREZ (8) and PALOMA ARMENDAREZ (7).

They listen to mom. ARTURO, with a birthday balloon tied to his wrist, moves to the window. His eyes widen with anticipation.

ARTURO
Mom, look at all those balls!

ARTURO
Mami, mira todos esos balones!

ESTRELLA puts down her make-up bag. Peers out the window and sees the field lousy with soccer balls.

Her and the DRIVER share a look, suspect.

She dials a number. We are on SPEAKER PHONE:

ESTRELLA
*You said the field was ours for two hours, Amilcar!
 Fucking soccer balls everywhere.*

ESTRELLA
 Dijiste que el campo iba a ser nuestro por dos horas, Amilcar! Esta lleno de pinches balones por todos lados.

PALOMA "flicks" her mom on the back of the neck for saying a "no-no" word. Her mom playfully swings her arm back at her.

AMILCAR (V.O.)
 them last night.
 Enjoy, Arturo.*

AMILCAR (V.O.)
 (coarse/heavy voice)
 La liga juvenil seguramente los dejo ahí anoche.
 (knows he's on speaker)
 Disfrútalo, Arturo.

Inaudible sound of a whore giggling into his phone. She hangs up, knows damn well he's sleeping around "again".

ESTRELLA glances between field and ARTURO's pleading eyes.

ESTRELLA
 Okay.

ESTRELLA
 Está bien.

DRIVER unlocks the automatic doors.

3 EXT. SOCCER FIELD -- CONTINUOUS

ARTURO, PALOMA rush out of the SUV. About a half-dozen KIDS exit the SUV behind them.

Kids just being kids as they rush a soccer field, passing by two armed men. ARTURO leads the pack -- he's a star in the making.

He assumes a kicking position, swipes the first ball he sees.

Twists his ankle, trips over ball.

The other kids congregate around him. Their gaze is not on ARTURO and his clumsiness, but at the cracked ball that now looks like flaked paint.

PALOMA goes to touch the ball, but ARTURO swats at her, except it's not so much a swat, but a punch -- right in her gut. It's his birthday, so he will do the "inspecting".

He peels the weathered leather off the soccer ball. The leather is not being pressurized/held up by your typical butyl rubber bladder...

... but by a beaten and smashed human head protruding out of the soil, buried.

ARTURO falls backwards. He's seen some shit before, but nothing like this.

PALOMA and the others flee back to the car.

Not ARTURO. He moves to the next ball, tears it open.

Another battered head.

Onto the next ball. Same thing. Dead men buried up to their neck.

The ARMED GUARDS rush to ARTURO as he violently rips away at every ball...

... but the next one he arrives on is different. Still a human head, but a familiar one.

GUARDS jerk their heads away as they vomit.

ESTRELLA is now out of the car, curious.

GUARD nods his head for her to get over here.

TIGHT ON the head as we PULL OUT to see ESTRELLA fall to her knees; her eyes well with tears as they cascade down her silky, cinnamon cheeks. She screams to the heavens, as she sucks in Juarez's dust.

ARTURO comforts his mom as she grieves...

Happy Birthday, Arturo...

4 EXT. MEXICAN FEDERAL HIGHWAY 45 -- SAME 4

TITLE CARD: Medanos de Samalayuca

5 INT. CAR -- SAME 5

Slithers of sun light strike through the car like a single-edged razor.

TWO MEXICAN GANGSTERS in the front. They are armed.

BACK SEAT. Two men with black hoods over their face, wrists pinned behind their back. They bobble up and down, head thumping into the ripped roof.

Meet CARLOS (31) and the person known simply as "GRINGO" (32).

CARLOS
I know people, you cholofucks.

CARLOS
Conozco gente, pinches cholos culeros.

GANGSTER #2 strikes CARLOS with the buttstock of his rifle.

GRINGO
(pleads to Carlos)
Shut the fuck up, man.

CARLOS coughs up blood and a tooth.

CARLOS
You know who the fuck I am? I know important people in El Paso and Dallas.

CARLOS
Sabes con quién estás hablando? Conozco gente importante en El Paso y Dallas.

The GANGSTERS share a laugh.

GANGSTER #2
We know people, too -- in D.C.
(to Gringo)
Washington D.C.

GANGSTER #2
Nosotros también. En D.C.
(to Gringo)
Washington D.C.

He hits CARLOS again. Then hits GRINGO.

CUT TO BLACK.

6 EXT. SAMALAYUCA FIELDS -- MORNING -- LATER

6

The warm morning sun rays pounding on our two now-shirtless characters, shovels in hand.

Near the Dunes, both men dig their graves.

GANGSTER #2 has his gun trained on both of them.

GANGSTER #1 opens up a hood of a nearby car. Bricks of cocaine (peacock logo). 50 kilos (street value of $3MM).

GANGSTER #1
Mucho.
(spread his arms widely)

GANGSTER #2 nearly gets a boner. They pull the hoods off CARLOS and GRINGO, forced to stare down at the graves they just dug for themselves blindfolded...

GANGSTER #1 (CONT)
Say your prayers.

GANGSTER #1
Di tus ultimas palabras.

CARLOS
(to Gringo)
You think they serve ice in heaven?
You know I don't like my whiskey neat.

GRINGO
 (no pun intended)
 Go to hell.

GRINGO closes his eyes, accepts his fate.

The sound of two guns cocking --

POP! POP! Two gun shots simultaneously.

TWO BODIES drop like a sack of potatoes into the pit --

-- but it's not our "guys", but the TWO GANGSTERS.

Our GRINGO's eyes narrow. What just happened?

He eyes CARLOS --

POP!

A bullet pierces through CARLOS' head, body falls forward on top of one of the gangsters.

GRINGO stares forward -- so scared his mouth is dry, wheezes like a steam engine...

RENETA (O.S.)
 Ah, fuckin' Gringo.

Meet our GRINGO's saviors:

RENETA, a fair-skinned, expressive eyed Mexican. She is Juarez: full of spirit, pain, sass, bitterness, and strength -- words that will become more evident as we get to know her.

JORGE, a round and hairy-faced Mexican. Slick-backed hair, dressed in black -- the Mexican version of Johnny Cash.

They both wield .40 calibers, smoke curls from the barrel.

GRINGO turns, manufactures a half-smile, hair spiked in all directions like Wolverine.

RENETA (CONT)
 You look like hell.

GRINGO
 You look...

She knows -- she holds her hand up for him to "save it".

RENETA looks at CARLOS' corpse, then back at JORGE -- nods.

JORGE, cig in mouth, pats CARLOS, then moves to his shoes, feels around the sole. Aha! Looks to RENETA. She knows.

RENETA
 Ah, Gringo.

We are TIGHT ON a dark-skinned Mexican woman's face, ROSA MARÍA (23), eyes rolled back, her teeth piercing into her lips. She moans. She fakes an orgasm, but she's believable.

ROSA MARÍA	ROSA MARÍA
Ah, yes! Yes! Cum in me, big papi!	Oh, sí! sí! Vente en mi papasito!

We now see the outline of AMILCAR ARMENDAREZ, a fat fuck, bloated belly, swimming in gold jewelry. Leader of the Juarez Cartel.

Angered, he pulls away from her, yanks the back of her hair, twists it in order to position her face towards him --

AMILCAR	AMILCAR
I don't cum in las morenitas whores!	No me vengo en zorras morenas!

He turns her around, aggressively palms her face. He fucks her from the front, until -- -- the door swings open.

ROSA, in an awkward angle, pulls her head back, sees ESTRELLA in the doorway.

ROSA rushes for her clothes, sprints to the door. When she tries to cross ESTRELLA she flinches.

ESTRELLA	ESTRELLA
(Insulted) Don't flinch. You think you are the first girl?	No te espantes. Crees que eres la primera?

She mouths "lo siento" and sees herself out.

ESTRELLA charges at AMILCAR, strikes him in the face multiple times, until he maintains a grip of her. Throws her up against the wall.

AMILCAR	AMILCAR
Get a hold of yourself. That bitch ain't important to me.	Tranquilízate. Esa zorra ni me importa.

ESTRELLA	ESTRELLA
You, fucking swine!	Maldito cerdo!

She pulls out a gun and pins it under his chin.

The entire field was a graveyard! (off his unwavering stare) My brother Diego is dead, Amilcar!!	Asesinaron a mi hermano! Todo el campo era un cementerio. (off his unwavering stare) Diego está muerto, Amilcar!!

He moves away from her, knowing full-well she knows better than to shoot. He faces the window, his back facing us. Takes a drag from a cigarette.

AMILCAR
He was getting sloppy.

AMILCAR
Ya la estaba cagando mucho.

ETRELLA pauses, puzzled by that comment. Lowers gun.

AMILCAR (CONT)
He lost his third load in a month. Fuck, Estrella, you know there are overhead prices for bribes, muscle.

(beat)
Parlay that with whores and his coke habit, the cabrón cost me hundreds of thousands.

(dead serious)
Would you rather me hold you responsible for his debt?

AMILCAR
No mames Estrella. Perdió tres cargas en un mes. Sabes que un error así tiene su precio.

(beat)
A eso agrégale putas y coca, ese cabrón me costo miles.

(dead serious)
Hubieras preferido que te hiciera responsable de su deuda?

A light bulb moment for her. We can see it in her expression. Twenty-nine years on this planet, and she finally has the bastard pegged...

ESTRELLA
You had him killed?

ESTRELLA
Tu hiciste que lo mataran?

AMILCAR
No. He had himself killed.

AMILCAR
No. Él solo se lo ganó.

She raises gun back at AMILCAR, determined more than ever.

ESTRELLA
Our son and daughter were there...

ESTRELLA
Nuestros hijos estaban ahí...

She grips the trigger. AMILCAR looks over her shoulder:

AMILCAR
You excited for your tu fiesta de cumpleaños?

AMILCAR
Estás emocionado por tu fiesta de cumpleaños?

She turns to the doorway, where ARTURO and PALOMA are holding hands, watch their mother about to murder their father.

AMILCAR (CONT)
Mama has gone a little loca. (to Estrella)
Isn't that right, mama?

AMILCAR
A mami se le botó un poquito la canica. (to Estrella) Verdad, mami?

PRE-LAP -- OUTSIDE CHATTER...

SISTER JOSELYN (V.O.)
Thank you again for inviting Paloma's entire class to the birthday party...

SISTER JOSELYN (V.O.)
 Gracias de nuevo por invitar a toda la clase de Paloma a la fiesta...

12 EXT. MANSION -- COURTYARD -- LATER

12

An old world exterior Spanish Villa with heavy plaster, rich blues and oranges, arches galore.

WE FOLLOW BIANCA (22), a server, walking with a tray full of drinks through GROUP OF WORKERS setting up for the party.

She swings her hips like a streetwalker. The bottom portion of her scoop neck mini dress is tucked into her panties.

She reaches SISTER JOSELYN (34), a nun, in her traditional garments, who sits opposite of ESTRELLA.

ESTRELLA notices BIANCA's panties (not to mention the slight nose bleed from coke). She knows all too well where she's "been". She turns her head in disgust.

LUCY removes the water pitcher, bottle of wine, and glasses from her tray. ESTRELLA shoos her off before she pours.

*.. the kids are so excited.
 All they've been talking about all week is what they will get painted on their face.*

SISTER JOSELYN
 ...los niños están muy emocionados. De lo único que han estado hablando toda la semana es de cómo se van a pintar la cara.

ESTRELLA feigns a fragile smile. Pours JOSELYN a glass of wine. She kindly declines -- ESTRELLA downs it herself.

ESTRELLA watches as the WORKERS turn her outside patio into a fiesta for the ages: piñatas, colorful cloths draped over tables, mini Mexican flags on each tabletop, gourmet dishes - - even a mariachi band setting up.

ESTRELLA can feel JOSELYN's glare as she watches.

ESTRELLA
Something else on your mind, Sister?

ESTRELLA
 Te pasa algo, hermana?

SISTER JOSELYN
*As a matter of fact, there is.
 (leans in)
 When I had Arturo a years ago, I was impressed with his English.*

SISTER JOSELYN
 De hecho, sí. Cuando Arturo estuvo conmigo hace unos años, me impresionó con su Inglés.

ESTRELLA holds up her glass, "salud".

But, I can't say the same about Poloma. In fact, she can't speak a word.

SISTER JOSELYN
 Pero, no puedo decir lo mismo de Paloma. De hecho, no sabe ni una palabra.

ESTRELLA swirls her wine around. Spots something in her glass, picks at it.

Does this not concern you?

SISTER JOSELYN
 No te preocupa ésto?

ESTRELLA
Amilcar forbids it.

ESTRELLA
 Amilcar lo prohíbe.

JOSELYN
 (giggles)
Forbids it? You're kidding, right? Arturo's English is just as good as his Spanish.

JOSELYN
 Lo prohíbe? Estás bromeando verdad? El inglés de Arturo es igual de bueno que su Español.

ESTRELLA
Amilcar doesn't believe women should learn the language, let alone travel there. Sure you can appreciate why.

ESTRELLA
 Amilcar cree que las mujeres no deberían aprender el idioma, o mucho menos viajar solas. Seguro puedes imaginar por qué.

JOSELYN
No, I really can't.
 (beat)
Do you speak English, Mrs. Armendarez?

JOSELYN
 No, la verdad no puedo.
 Do you speak English, Mrs. Armendarez?

ESTRELLA looks over her shoulder, and for the first time thus far, speaks English:

ESTRELLA
 Fluently. But never in front of Amilcar.

JOSELYN
 Have you considered, maybe, teaching her privately?

ESTRELLA summons up a half-ass laugh. She grabs onto JOSELYN'S hand, then whispers into her ear:

ESTRELLA
 You don't know Amilcar Armendarez very well do you?

ESTRELLA lights a cigarette, blows a billow of smoke around JOSELYN'S rosy cheeks. Raises out of her seat --

ESTRELLA
I need to prep the cake. Please excuse me.

ESTRELLA
 Necesito preparar el pastel. Discúlpame.

ESTRELLA takes one more puff, then flicks cig into bushes.

JORGE's phone rings. He looks at caller, then at RENETA -- it's a call they were expecting. JORGE walks out of earshot.

OWNER (60) of the cafe, brings them their dish.

While inaudible, JORGE is visually steamed.

GRINGO

Who's that?

RENETA

Glad you asked.

(takes bite of food)

God, this is good.

(points to JORGE with fork)

That's a call from someone with La Línea.

Our GRINGO knows very little -- he shrugs.

RENETA

La Línea... the muscle for Juarez Cartel. Jesus, Gringo, you've been doing this long enough.

GRINGO

I prefer to forget.

RENETA

That's your problem, Gringo. Some big things are on the horizon.

(speaks in lower voice)

The plaza is in some trouble. Juarez ain't happy with the level of "muscle" they are getting anymore -- may be cutting them out, only using Barrio Azteca.

(points to herself)

ANGLE ON JORGE on phone:

JORGE

Thirty-fucking seconds is all it should take! 2 cops block each end. One sicario. One shot. Then the coup de grâce.

(beat)

Who the fuck ordered these "kids" to spray 300 rounds on one target!?

JORGE

Treinta putos segundos es lo que se necesita! 2 policías bloqueando cada lado. Un sicario. Un tiro.

Después, el tiro de gracia.

(beat)

Quien chingados mandó rafaguearlos!?

People start to stare. JORGE moves behind the hut.

BACK TO RENETA, GRINGO

RENETA

With La Línea out of the way, that means we control the movement of the coke and the muscle for Armendarez.

GRINGO
 (not really caring)
 But you're not even an Azteca.

RENETA
 I get "contracted". And, look -- Jorge told me the CIA are days away from taking down some major players.
 (takes another bite)
 It's time I get the respect I deserve. Juarez can be ours.

GRINGO coughs -- either he doesn't take her serious or he's about to throw up.

GRINGO
 Ahumada was crawling with new faces.

RENETA Might be Sinaloa. Things are changing, Gringo. Juarez Cartel needs us more than ever.

GRINGO waves her off. Sweat drips off his nose and chin, from the heat or something else.

JORGE reappears, still on the phone. His demeanor has changed. Relaxed.

GRINGO
 I leave for Phoenix in the AM.

RENETA
 Give your mom my best.

GRINGO
 She only has 2 weeks left to live.

RENETA
 Then give her her last rights.

GRINGO playfully flicks her off.

RENETA (CONT)
 Don't stay too long. I can really use you right now.

RENETA scoots him an envelope with wad of cash. It's thick.
 He peels it open with his pinkie, slides out about $40 -- there is well-over $10K in there. He slides it back.

She pushes it back (it's his, he earned it), but he refuses.

RENETA
 Keep your eyes open when you cross tomorrow. These are strange times in Juarez.

GRINGO
 No one knows me.
 (serious)
 I want out.

RENETA
 Ah, Gringo. You love Juárez too much.
 (changes facial expression)
 No one gets "out".

BACK TO JORGE laughing hysterically. He drops his phone..

... and WE HEAR the sound of a girl giggling.

RENETA turns to the sound --

RENETA
Is that the bitch from Praxedis!?

RENETA
 No me digas que es la pinche vieja de Praxedis!?

RENETA charges at JORGE, he hurries to pick up the phone --

-- too late. She takes the phone and heaves it over a fence.

JORGE runs after his phone.

GRINGO
 Why you still married to him?

She leans in, kisses him on the cheek.

RENETA
 Call me when you get to Phoenix, ya?

He nods "yes".

AT THE FENCE, JORGE climbs over without any trouble. Grabs his phone, hops back over.

JORGE
 (to himself, laughs)
And Trump thinks a wall will keep us out.

JORGE
 (to himself, laughs)
 Y Trump cree que con un muro nos va a detener.

BACK TO RENETA, GRINGO. His face is flushed.

GRINGO
 By the way, how did you know where to find us?

RENETA Bar owner called me. Oh, and by the way, they weren't serving you bourbon.

And just like that the GRINGO throws up -- who the hell knows what was in his drinks.

ESTRELLA (O.S.)
Baby, we have to get out of here.

ESTRELLA
 Mi amor, nos tenemos que ir de aquí.

ARTURO
I want to go back to the party!

ARTURO
 Quiero volver a la fiesta!

ESTRELLA (O.S.)
No, baby. But I'll throw you a huge party in a few days, okay?

ESTRELLA (O.S.)
 No podemos mi amor. Pero en unos días te haré otra, sí?

ARTURO pouts. Once realizing backseat doors are locked, he bangs his hands against the window.

ESTRELLA, in silhouette, reaches the end of the driveway, slows down when she sees GUARDS fraternizing with the "help".

She reaches back to ARTURO, holds him. We now see her face: severely bruised, swollen.

ESTRELLA
We have to leave, Arturo. You have to believe me.

ESTRELLA
 Nos tenemos que ir Arturo. Tienes que confiar en mi.

He looks to PALOMA who pleads with her eyes for him to stay.

And boom -- just like a wild dog, ARTURO climbs over the passenger's seat, opens car door, flees.

16 EXT. DRIVEWAY -- CONTINUOUS 16

17 INT. CAR -- CONTINUOUS 17

ESTRELLA watches ARTURO in the rear view mirror.

Beat. He turns on his heel, sprints towards the house. His loyalty is to dad.

She puts the car in reverse, looks back at PALOMA, studies her innocent face, considers...

FADE TO:

18 EXT. EL BAR -- NIGHT 18

Nothing to look twice at. Hole in the wall, single door sort of place. Oh, and there is a GUY pissing against the wall...

INT. EL BAR -- JUAREZ -- NIGHT -- LATER

GRINGO smiles at a bar fly several stools down, let's call her LOLA. She's Mexican, wavy long hair, detached/withdrawn from the world.

Being friendly, our GRINGO smiles at her; goes to speak, and then:

LOLA	LOLA
(looks straight ahead)	(looks straight ahead)
Not interested. Move along.	No interesada, muévete.

He shrugs; it's whatever. He polishes off his drink. Slides it down the bar.

GRINGO
Another Oaxacan old fashioned, por favor.

The mammoth, tatted butch MEXICAN BAR-BACK snarls at him. The bar-back is a "lady". From the back appears VALENTINA (37). She posses a confidence that shows in her stride, demeanor. Points for BAR-BACK to chill.

She tends to our GRINGO.

VALENTINA
Oaxaca, huh? Long way from home, honey.

GRINGO
I'm from here.

She mixes the drink. She knows her way around a bar. She grabs a straw, dips it into drink, tastes. Perfecto!

GRINGO (CONT)
Haven't seen you here before.

VALENTINA
I usually work in the back.

GRINGO
Busgirl? Janitor?

VALENTINA
Try owner.

GRINGO
Get out of here.

VALENTINA
You don't think a woman in Juarez can own an establishment?

He sinks in his seat, feels as small as a fruit fly.

VALENTINA (V.O.)
 Relax, white boy. My husband bought it for me.
 (off his look)
 He's not involved. In fact, he hates drinking.

GRINGO
 Can't trust a man who doesn't drink.

She watches as he takes another sip, studies him.

GRINGO (CONT)
 How much you pay for protection here?
 (she's taken back)
 No, I mean, it's just... I know
 Armendarez controls this district.
 He makes people pay for protection.

VALENTINA
 I don't pay.

GRINGO
 (chuckles/kidding)
 Why, he work for him or something?

VALENTINA
 Yes.

GRINGO
 Oh.

Her gaze doesn't leave the GRINGO. He raises glass, a toast:

GRINGO
 I think I kinda do, too.

VALENTINA
 You think?

GRINGO
 Fuck, I don't know. What, between El Paso and Juarez there are like 100 gangs that work for the Juarez Cartel?

 (positive)
 Try 300.

GRINGO
 I work, well, used to work for one.
 Well, not one. Well, one person.
She.
 (beat) Yeah. I work for her. But more as a favor... or maybe a punishment?

VALENTINA
You lost me, white boy.

GRINGO
Yeah.

GRINGO notices LOLA is still alone, drinking.

VALENTINA
She won't go for you.

GRINGO
Attached?

VALENTINA
She doesn't trust people who can't speak Spanish.

GRINGO flashes her a "look".

She makes him another drink. BAR-BACK stares daggers.

VALENTINA (CONT)
So who is "she". The one you "work" for.

GRINGO
Reneta Machuca.

Sinks in his seat; wishes he didn't say that.

VALENTINA
Never heard of her.

GRINGO
Yeah. This city seems to forget 'bout a lot of people, huh?

VALENTINA
Not if you are important.

Our GRINGO gets the hint, raises his glass again: touché.

GRINGO
I'm going to Phoenix tomorrow.

VALENTINA
Okay. Why the fuck do I care?

GRINGO
Just want to change the subject.

VALENTINA
What's in Phoenix?

GRINGO
My mother. She's dying of liver cancer.

VALENTINA

I'm sorry.

He finishes off his drink.

GRINGO

She can't afford the chemo therapy.

VALENTINA

Then you pay for it.

GRINGO

I don't have that kind of money.

VALENTINA

When you coming back?

GRINGO

Never.

PHONE RINGS. BAR-BACK hands VALENTINA the phone. She steps in the back.

BAR-BACK pushes the GRINGO off his stole.

BAR-BACK

Get the fuck out of here, asshole, you don't belong here.

BAR-BACK

Lárgate pendejo! No perteneces aquí.

GRINGO gets back onto his stool.

I don't think you heard me. In Juarez we don't ask twice.

She wipes the bar top with GRINGO's face. GRINGO bounces up. She takes a swing at him; he blocks her, presses his finger against her parotid lymph node, brings her to her knees.

GRINGO turns, where he's now face-to-face with VALENTINA.

VALENTINA

Where did you learn that?

GRINGO

Army.

VALENTINA

Want to fuck?

CUT TO:

ESTRELLA
How'd you end up in this barrio?

ESTRELLA
Cómo terminaste en este barrio?

Sees her bite marks, stockings ripped. ESTRELLA gets it.

Are you going to be okay?

ESTRELLA (CONT)
Vas a estar bien?

VALENTINA
I'm fine. I'm more worried about you.

VALENTINA
Estoy bien. La que me preocupa eres tú.

ESTRELLA
How can you be so calm knowing Diego was murdered!?

ESTRELLA
Cómo puedes estar tan tranquila sabiendo que asesinaron a Diego?

VALENTINA
Ah, he had it coming.

VALENTINA
Ah, él ya lo veía venir.

ESTRELLA
Jesus, Valentina. He was the father of your kids!? Where are they?

ESTRELLA
Por Dios Valentina. Era el papá de tus hijos?! Dónde están?

VALENTINA
Eh, he was the father of many kids.
(beat) They're in Guatemala visiting my dad.

VALENTINA
Eh, era el papá de varios.
Están en Guatemala visitando a mi papá.

VALENTINA cracks door open, hears PALOMA singing. VAL speaks:

VALENTINA (CONT)
What are you going to do?

ESTRELLA
Cross tonight.

VALENTINA
No, you aren't.

ESTRELLA
I have too! His slew of holigan retinues shot at my car. We smashed into a fucking pole! My fucking daughter was in the car.

VALENTINA
You two can't cross together.

She takes a drag of ESTRELLA's cig.

VALENTINA (CONT.)
One crosses tonight. The other tomorrow.

ESTRELLA
 You think I'm handing by seven year-old girl to some drug-induced coyote?

VALENTINA
 You might as well be the "most wanted" woman in North America. They will shoot you in the face when you cross. You want Paloma to see that?

She scoots closer to ESTRELLA.

ESTRELLA
 You're out of you fucking mind,
 Val. It's out of the question. We both cross tonight.

ESTRELLA walks to a smeared mirror. Dabs a little water from a bottle into her hands, tries to rub off some of the dirt.

VAL stands behind ESTRELLA. Pulls out a hair tie and pulls ESTRELLA's' hair out of her eyes.

VALENTINA
 You want my help?

ESTRELLA
 (unsure now)
 Yes?

VALENTINA
 You and Paloma can't cross together.

ESTRELLA
 You can't take her. There will be eyes on you, too.

VAL closes the bathroom door.

VALENTINA
How much money do you have on you?

VALENTINA
 Cuanto dinero tienes?

ESTRELLA
I'm not paying a coyote.

ESTRELLA
 No voy a pagar un coyote.

VALENTINA
What if he wasn't a coyote?

VALENTINA
 Y qué si no es un coyote?

FADE TO:

A thick, colorful substance sprays on the screen.

ANGLE ON GRINGO puking in the toilet -- this is a morning ritual for the lad.

With his face still in the toilet, he turns the shower faucet on to scolding hot unintentionally.

Once throwing Mexican's finest beer back into Mexico's sewage system, he peels himself up, scoots into the shower -- SCREAMS from his hair being singed off.

QUICK SHOTS of him washing his hair and under his arms. He sticks his arm out of the shower curtain, reaches for a towel. He feels around towel rack, knowing damn-well there was one there. Peeved, he pulls back the curtain --

-- VALENTINA is holding the last towel, twirling it.

She gazes at his nude body.

VALENTINA

Last night I felt like you were bigger.

Off his look...

INT. OSCURO MOTEL ROOM -- MINUTES LATER

26

By the looks of it, this isn't just his room -- but his home. GRINGO finishes shaving over a bowl of water on his dresser with a mirror bolted to it. He applies aftershave.

GRINGO

There's no way in hell.

VALENTINA

She's prepared to pay upwards of 5 grand.

GRINGO

(pause, shakes head "no")
It's suicide.

VALENTINA

Your mom, she will need chemo treatment.

GRINGO

We are past chemo -- but wouldn't cover it anyhow.

VALENTINA

How 'bout funeral arrangements?

This gets his attention -- shortly.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

Embalming. Casket. Priest.

GRINGO

I'm more spiritual than religious.

VALENTINA
 Hearse. Cost of the lot! It's your mother's funeral, for Christ's sake!
 (had enough)
 We are talking big money here! 8
grand. Final offer.

Gringo gets into VALENTINA's face to make this crystal clear:

GRINGO
 I move drugs from Central Mexico to Northern Mexico. I'm not even good at that. I've never once moved an ounce of coke into the US, let alone a child.

GRINGO takes her by the arm and escorts her to the door.

He throws her out, shuts the door, but she blocks it with her arm, wiggles her way back in.

VALENTINA
 I know about Letizia.

27 EXT. STREETS -- JUAREZ -- SAME

27

TITLE CARD: PUERTO DE ANAPRA

We are in a carpet of slums. Loose homes stacked on top of each other, some hoisted by rubber tires. Shapeless, blank faces wander the streets. Black exhaust everywhere. Trees, leaves struggle to survive. Unleashed dogs barking, snarling, roaming around.

28 INT. RENETA'S CAR -- MOVING -- SAME

28

RENETA at the wheel, JORGE in the passenger's seat, clipping his dirty toe nails on the dashboard.

JORGE
You know I don't like coming to Anapra.
 (waits)
Fuckin' place reeks.

JORGE
Sabes que no me gusta venir a Anapra.
 (waits)
Pinche lugar apesta.

RENETA
Stop clipping your God damn toenails!

RENETA
Deja de cortarte las malditas uñas de los pies!

JORGE backs off, put his arms in the air. Beat. Then tosses the toe nail clipper out the window.

-- RENETA SLAMS ON THE BREAKS --

RENETA
Go get it.

RENETÉ
Ve por él.

He tears into them as if it's Christmas morning. The fruit is covering bricks of coke (and baggies), PEACOCK label exposed. The BOY is careful not to disturb the coke. He takes as much fruit as his little arms can carry.

LITTLE BOY
(as he runs off)
Gracias señor!!!

RENETA, GABARAIN

FATHER GABARÁIN
I can not take drug money. It is not right.

FATHER GABARÁIN
No puedo aceptar dinero de las drogas. No es correcto.

RENETA
Armendarez already has eyes on this place. This will just be another death house or stash house once you foreclose.

RENETA
Armendariz ya sabe de éste lugar. Después de que se anuncie la hipoteca, este lugar solo sera usado clandestinamente... prostitución, drogas...

She points to the evident poverty surrounding this barrio.

RENETA (CONT)
It's not up for discussion, father. These people need this church. I needed this church. What you did for me and my mother, and then when I got pregnant... (chokes up) ...deserves... no, demands this money.

RENETA (CONT)
No está a discusión, padre. La gente necesita ésta Iglesia. Yo necesité ésta Iglesia. Lo que usted hizo por mi mamá y por mi, y cuando me embaracé... (chokes up) ...merece... no, necesita éste dinero.

GABARAIN removes the money from his jacket. Throws it on the step below them.

FATHER GABARÁIN
"Needed" is the key word, Reneta. You must always "need" the Lord.

FATHER GABARAIN
"Necesité" es la palabra clave, Renata. Siempre debes necesitar al Señor.

RENETA gets up, moves about...

RENETA (CONT)
No, I know, but --

RENETA
No, lo sé, pero --

-- PHONE RINGS --

RENETA (CONT)
Sorry, about that.

RENETA
Perdón.

She reaches in her pocket, MUTES the call.

RENETA (CONT)
I don't want the people here to know what I do, it would be --

RENETA
 No quiero que la gente de aquí sepa a lo que me dedico ahora, sería--

-- PHONE RINGS AGAIN --

RENETA (CONT)
Fuck.

RENETA
 Mierda.

Realizes what she said. She checks phone. She holds up her finger for FATHER to wait a short second.

RENETA
 (on phone)
 This isn't a good time.

GRINGO (V.O.)
 What are you doin'?

RENETA politely smiles at the FATHER, turns so he can't read her lips.

RENETA
 This isn't a good fucking time,
 Gringo

GRINGO (V.O.)
 Did you hear Armendarez's wife and girl are missing?

RENETA
 That's old news, Gringo.

CUT TO:

30 INT. CAR -- DRIVING -- SAME

30

GRINGO driving.

GRINGO
 Ya, yeah it is.
 (looks in rear view mirror)
 What if I told you I had her?

We now see a GIRL (6ish) in the rear view mirror, we've never seen her before. AND THEN she morphs into PALOMA. Gringo's eyes play tricks on him. Paloma studies this white boy...

31 EXT. CHURCH -- CONTINUOUS

31

RENETA takes the envelope and slams it against GABARAIN's chest. Moves out of earshot.

RENETA
 No, you don't.
 (silence on his end)
 Don't fuck with me.

RENETA marches down the sidewalk --

RENETA (CONT)
 If you have her, describe her!

32

INT. CAR -- SAME

32

GRINGO turns his head back to her. PALOMA's hair is shorter, with blonde streaks.

GRINGO
Black.

RENETA (V.O.)
 We all have black hair, asshole.

GRINGO
 I met a girl in Monterrey who had red hair once.

RENETA (V.O.)
 Gringo, how drunk are you?

GRINGO reaches for his flask, takes a swig. PALOMA gives him an eyeful of discontent.

GRINGO
 I'm sobering up.

RENETA (V.O.)
 Call me when you make it into Phoenix, alright?

 (pause)
 Reneta?

RENETA (V.O.)
 What!?

GRINGO
 What should I do?

He takes another gander back at the girl.

RENETA (V.O.)
 Put down the bottle and sober up for your mother.

GRINGO's knuckles cling white on the wheel, makes a sharp turn, accelerates.

GRINGO
 Reneta, I fucked up. I have Paloma.
 (sighs)

33 EXT. STREETS -- PUERTO DE ANAPRA -- JUAREZ -- SAME

33

That gets RENETA's attention.

RENETA
 You need to be real clear. Do you have her or not?
 (off long silence)
 Gringo!!??

GRINGO (V.O.)
 Have I ever lied to you.

RENETA
No.

GRINGO (V.O.)
 I have her, Reneta.

RENETA turns on her heel. Waves to JORGE to start car. He clambers over the gear shift.

RENETA
 Do you realize what kind of cargo you are carrying?

Determined and focused, RENETA darts to the car. Hops in.

RENETA (CONT)
 We're on our way!

GRINGO (V.O.)
 That won't be necessary.

RENETA
 What the fuck are you saying,
 Gringo?

34 EXT/INT. CAR -- DAY

34

In front of us the EL PASO SKYLINE. PORT OF ENTRY SIGNS, all in SPANISH, pass us as we drive. As we move toward the clots of traffic blocking the streets --

GRINGO takes one more look at PALOMA, and then:

GRINGO
 Because I'm taking her to her mom.

We hear HOLLERING from the other end of the phone. He slowly moves the phone from his ear, hangs up...

Looks back at PALOMA. They study each other, neither flinch.

35 INT. CAR -- MOVING -- SAME

35

RENETA lowers phone, jaw dropped, stunned...

JORGE
You want me to kill the bastard?

JORGE
Quieres que mate a este hijo de puta?

JORGE cocks his gun...

VALENTINA (PRE-LAP)
I know why you were discharged from FORT BLISS...

36 FLASHBACK -- INT. OSCURO MOTEL - EARLIER

36

VALENTINA
... and I know about your 18 months in ROGELIO SANCHEZ STATE JAIL...

GRINGO lets go of the door. VALENTINA makes her way in.

VALENTINA
And I know why you did it. Letizia's mom doesn't know, does she?
(off his spooked look)
I made a call last night.

GRINGO looks her in the eye, a million mile stare, a weight he hasn't felt in awhile... long beat, and then --

-- still nothing, speechless, skin flushed, liquid film around his eye --

She knows she has won over the "room". She takes out a vinyl deposit bag, counts, tosses 4k on bed.

VALENTINA (CONT)
You will stay on I-10, just like you would if you were going to Phoenix.

GRINGO
I am still going to Phoenix.

VALENTINA
Exactly. You will take Interstate 10 and right when you reach the New Mexico-Texas state line, you will pass by an area called REMCON.

GRINGO starts counting cash.

VALENTINA (CONT)

You will see an office off the freeway called WHITE MAGIC.

(off his look)

It's a "teeth whitening" place. An Israeli man will meet you out front.

You will not exit the car. Only Paloma.

GRINGO

What's her mom's number?

VALENTINA

(adamant)

No. You only talk with me. Here.

She hands him a zip-lock bag, which includes Valentina's contact info, among other things. GRINGO rifles through it.

GRINGO

When is the girl getting here?

VALENTINA

She's already in your car.

VALENTINA waves his keys in front of him, swings open door.

And, for the first time, our GRINGO and POLIMA make eye contact, albeit through a plate of glass.

END FLASHBACK.

37

EXT. CITY OF JUAREZ -- DAY -- PRESENT

37

SERIES OF QUICK SHOTS from fast to slow motion of the city, weaving in and out of affluent to working-class barrios.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

There is a private lane when you cross into the Bridge of Americas that is only available for Americans who "hold" capital in Juarez.

(beat)

We have several custom agents on the payroll that work that station.

GRINGO (V.O.)

Won't the drug dogs sniff her out if she's hiding in the trunk?

VALENTINA (V.O.)

She won't be in the trunk. She will be in the backseat, behind you.

38 INT. CAR -- MOVING -- SAME

38

PALOMA in back, GRINGO at wheel. EL PASO SKYLINE visible through window.

GRINGO (V.O.)
She have a passport?

VALENTINA (V.O.)
No. She will be using a fake one.

GRINGO reaches into the baggie, pulls out a passport, opens it, it's a fair-skinned, light-haired SPANISH GIRL.

A roll of sweat rolls off GRINGO's brow. He sticks it on the dashboard.

You are to hand the customs both passports. Only one will be logged in the computer.

PALOMA steals looks at the GRINGO, carries a calmness that our GRINGO does not currently carry. He catches her gaze:

GRINGO
I'm not making any pit stops. That goes for food, stretching, and shitting.

PALOMA shrugs:

PALOMA
(soft voice)
Qué?

GRINGO (V.O.)
(under breath)
Shit.

FADE TO:

39 EXT/INT. CAR -- SIDE ROAD -- JUAREZ -- MOMENTS LATER

39

SIGNS TO PORT OF ENTRY. GRINGO/PALOMA's car comes to a stop. While not overly congested, there are a few cars at a complete stop, waiting to turn on the main drag.

A single MEXICAN NATIONAL GUARD, armed and loaded, zigzags in and out of the light traffic.

GRINGO pulls focus to the GUARD. PALOMA catches the GRINGO'S gape, and takes stock of the GUARD, too.

PAN HANDLER (O.S.)
I got prescription drugs, nopales, bracelets, necklaces. Need Vicodin?

PAN HANDLER
Tengo medicinas, nopales, pulseras, collares. Necesita Vicodin?

GRINGO turns to find a MALE PAN HANDLER (15) who has his head through the passenger's side window. GRINGO waves him off.

PAN HANDLER spots PALOMA in backseat, grins at both of them.

PAN HANDLER
Ah, you mother fucker.

PAN HANDLER
Ah, que cabrón.

He pulls out a dozen roses from his jacket like a magician.

PAN HANDLER
(to Gringo, winks)
Here. Flowers for your "lady".

PAN HANDLER
(to Gringo, winks)
Ten. Flores para la "dama".

PALOMA
Move on, mamón!

PALOMA
Váyase, mamón!

PAN HANDLER taken back by her forwardness.

PAN HANDLER
Ah, your handler don't speak Spanish?

PAN HANDLER
Ah, tu encargado no habla Español?

GRINGO rolls up window on the guy, focused on GUARD.

GUARD and a DRIVER a few cars ahead of them chat.

PAN HANDLER now aggravated, pounds on window. GRINGO cracks window open. Pulls out his empty jean pockets, shows him:

GRINGO
I got nothing. Fuck off.

GRINGO turns to road -- M16 RIFLE is now pointed at him through the driver's side window. GRINGO looks back at PAN HANDLER who now has a HANDGUN pointed at him. PANHANDLER and GUARD nod to each other...

MEXICAN GUARD
You own this car?
(off Gringo shrugging)
Let me see your TITLE and
MEXICAN AUTO INSURANCE.

MEXICAN GUARD
El carro es tuyo?
(off Gringo shrugging)
Let me see your TITLE and
MEXICAN AUTO INSURANCE.

GRINGO reaches into glove box -- he has all the paperwork. GUARD scans it over, spots PALOMA in the back.

(to Paloma)
Tu hablas español?
(nods "yes")
Let me see identification.

MEXICAN GUARD
(to Paloma)
Tu hablas español?
(nods "yes")
Muéstrame tu identificación.

She nods at windshield. GUARD takes passport, watches GRINGO's reaction as he reviews it. GUARD pops her head through the window, gets a better look at her. Not convinced.

GUARD reaches for her transceiver. Goes to speak, when PALOMA unbuckles seat belt, slides to the middle.

Both the GUARD and PAN HANDLER train their guns at her --

-- GRINGO reaches under seat, grabs his PISTOL, puts a bullet right between the eyes of the PAN HANDLER.

Before the GUARD can shift the gun towards GRINGO, our GRINGO grabs the center part of the GUARD's vest and jerks her towards him, GUARD's nose smashes into cracked window, frontal bone going into the skull cavity. Dead.

GRINGO does a u-turn, flees post-haste. Silence, until --

-- POP! POP! From a docile car, someone opens FIRE on them!

WE TRACK GRINGO's car as it zips through residential neighborhoods, to a more abandoned, meager quarter of town.

CUT TO:

40

EXT. ALLEYWAY -- OUTSKIRTS -- SHORTLY AFTER

40

GRINGO leans against car. ON THE PHONE. He appraises the vehicle as he walks and talks, sees BULLET holes.

GRINGO

I'm out. This is utter bull shit!

POUNDS the car hood.

POLIMA, unfazed, sits in the back seat.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

You need to calm down.

GRINGO

Calm down?

GRINGO abandons the car, speed-walks down the ally.

GRINGO (CONT)

I killed a fucking Mexican Official.
Did you hear that, Valentina? I murdered two Mexican Nationals in broad daylight.

He bends over, dry heaves. He drips in sweat.

GRINGO (CONT)

My ass is grass.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

Where are you now?

GRINGO

I don't know. Outskirts, west side.
 (off her silence)
 You're going to need to come pick her up. Deal is off.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

No can do, white boy.

GRINGO

(hysterical) No can do? HA! I'll fucking drop her ass here.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

(short beat)
They burned down my bar this morning. I had to leave town.

GRINGO lets that sink in for a second. He doesn't care.

GRINGO

Tough shit. Tell Estrella to cross her ass right back into Mexico.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

I don't know where she is. She calls me, not the other way around.

GRINGO pulls out a cig, smokes it all in about five puffs.

GRINGO

You're tellin' me, you don't even know if she made it into El Paso!?!?

LONG SILENCE. Gringo manic. He starts KICKING the shit out of a dumpster. He's nearly in tears -- anger, fear...

VALENTINA (V.O.)

What are you going to do?

GRINGO

Leave her here. I'll text you her location.

He waits for her to respond -- something, anything!

GRINGO (CONT)

Then, it's settled?

As he's about to hang up:

VALENTINA (V.O.)

Do me a favor. In fact, do her a favor: put a bullet through her head.

Better she dies that way than getting gang-raped by the homeboys down the street.

(pause)

At least let her die with dignity.

GRINGO

Deal.

GRINGO hangs up. Checks gun's chamber. Loaded.

Mad as hell, he marches to the car, gun out in front of him.

BACK AT THE CAR, our GRINGO swings open the back door. Much to his chagrin, PALOMA is gone.

GRINGO

Ah, fuck!

He looks under the car. Pops the trunk. She's gone.

MURMURING (or CHANTING?) can be heard just beyond the alley.

He tucks his gun into his back pocket, follows the commotion.

SIDE STREET

Just beyond the alley's shadows, GRINGO finds PALOMA. He presses his hand hard on her shoulder.

GRINGO

Let's go.

He tugs; she doesn't budge. Her attention is on something much more transcendent. GRINGO now sees what she sees.

-- A WOMEN'S MARCH --

GROUP OF WOMEN, all ages, somewhere around a dozen or so, take the streets. They hold PINK CROSSES and SIGNS.

GROUP OF WOMEN

Ni una más, ni una más, ni una muerta más!!

They march in tandem, look straight ahead, resolute.

GRINGO loosens his grip, equally as transfixed as PALOMA.

MEXICAN WOMEN hold signs that say: NO MORE SEXUAL ASSAULT; NO MORE TORTURE; NO MORE SYSTEMATIC MURDER; NO MORE MUTILATION.

These WOMEN have PAINTED HAND PRINTS (WHITE, BLACK, BROWN) on their buttocks, chest, and necks, parlayed with PAINTED BLOOD MARKS around their wrists and ankles.

Like an elite marching-band, they never lose their focus.

As the group slowly leaves us, one woman, let's call her FUERZA (translation: STRENGTH), turns her head and, with sullen and suspicious eyes, looks at our GRINGO, "whispers" something....

FUERZA's beautiful eyes cocooned in makeup throw him off.

And, before he can make out her cryptic message, the WOMEN, including FUERZA, are gone... vanished...

Overwhelmed, he looks to PALOMA, who is now gone, too...

BACK AT THE CAR, he sees PALOMA is in the backseat.

He opens up his door, reaches in a compartment under the wheel, and pulls out a FLASK. He takes a generous swig...

PRE-LAP - PHONE RINGING:

41

INT. HOTEL ROOM -- SOMEWHERE MEXICO -- SAME

41

TIGHT ON FLIP PHONE as it rings and rings and rings...

HAND ENTERS FRAME, opens it, then shuts it.

A cloud of SMOKE engulfs the phone. It RINGS again.

The same hand opens it again, this time answers. It's VALENTINA. Her hair is a mess. Eye make-up smeared. Cig in hand, half-empty bottle of tequila rested in-between her sprawled legs.

She's on a bed. A 3-star hotel in Mexico; more like a 2-star hotel (if that) in the States.

She puts the phone against her ear, waits, in no hurry...

GRINGO (V.O.)
(after a long pause)
Where to?

VALENTINA
20 miles west of Puerto Palomas.

GRINGO (V.O.)
What's there?

VALENTINA
Nothing. An Indian Reservation. You can only reach it by dirt road.

GRINGO (V.O.)
But the only port of entry anywhere near Puerto Palomas is Columbus, New Mexico?

FADE TO:

42 EXT. MEXICAN ROADS -- DAY

42

WE ARE HIGH IN THE AIR. Pylons surrounded by a cactus-covered desert that stretches as far as the eye can see.

VALENTINA (V.O.)
You are to take Cd Juarez - Ascensión México 2 all the way in.

We drift away from the city. PUSH IN ON GRINGO'S CAR as a plume of dust launches in the air.

Tribes have jurisdiction within their land. U.S. law doesn't apply.
So you two are safe.

SERIES OF SHOTS of the scenery along one of Northern Mexico's most remote (and controlled) stretches of roads.

An old woman will be selling slippers when you reach Palomas.

GRINGO (V.O.)
Every border has a string of old women selling shoes.

VALENTINA (V.O.)
She will be the only one selling ones with soles that don't leave footprints...

43

GRINGO at the wheel; PALOMA in back. GRINGO can't help but to keep looking at her. She's in a whole other world, watching the countryside zoom past her.

VALENTINA (V.O.)
The woman will be your escort when crossing.

GRINGO
Estrella will be on the Reservation waiting?

VALENTINA (V.O.)
I'm still not sure where she is.

GRINGO slinks in his seat, uneasy...

44 EXT. CD JUAREZ - ASCENSIÓN MÉXICO 2 -- SAME

44

We are practically driving through ghost towns...

VALENTINA (V.O.)
 You are being watched by Juarez members. Keep your eyes open. And, white boy... if you can't tell if someone is good or bad, call on Paloma. She will know.

FADE TO:

45 INT. CAR -- LATER

45

GRINGO must use his windshield wipers to fight off the torrent sandstorm sweeping over the car.

Through the dust, a SIGN: PUERTO PALOMAS 60 MILES.

GRINGO look back at PALOMA.

GRINGO Hungry?
 (off her confused look) Umm... Co..comme..

PALOMA
 Comer?

GRINGO
 Si.

She rolls her eyes.

46 EXT. LOWLY CANTINA -- DAY

46

A dusty adobe. Rose pink, with grey bars over the windows.
 Not their first choice, but their ONLY choice of dining.

GRINGO gets out of the car. Takes stock of his surroundings.
 It's sparse. PALOMA slides out. He pushes her right back in.

GRINGO
 No, sit. Stay there.

She's not an animal, and doesn't appreciate being talked to like one. She makes her way back out. This time he uses force.

PALOMA
 Baño!

He sticks her in the middle seat, puts a seat belt around her. You'd think he would know that word -- but he's not listening.

He cracks the windows. Points at her; he's serious.

47 INT. LOWLY CANTINA -- MOMENTS LATER

47

500 SQFT, if that. No dining area, except a square bar area front and center.

GRINGO shuffles through a greasy menu, points to two dishes.

JOSE, bartender, barks orders in the back. Then picks his nose, inspects it, wipes it on his short. He pours GRINGO a generous beer, with a shot of something on the side.

GRINGO sees missed calls. DIALS:

INTERCUT - INT. RENETA'S CAR / INT. LOWLY CANTINA -- SAME

JORGE drives... FIZZZZ... pops a beer can open. Takes a big long guzzle. RENETA in passenger's seat. PHONE RINGS. She turns down music. Answers phone:

 RENETA
 Gringo!? Where the hell are you?

JORGE tries to take the phone away from her --

 JORGE
 Let me talk to the cock-sucker!

RENETA pushes him away.

 RENETA
 I've been trying to call all morning! What is going on!???

 GRINGO
 Drinking.

 JORGE
 Ask him if he has the girl!

RENETA waves him off - she knows.

 RENETA
 Gringo, where is the girl?

 GRINGO
 I have her in my possession.

GRINGO walks to window, pulls back curtain to check on her. She's fine. He goes back to the bar.

 RENETA
 You may have just started a war.

 GRINGO
 Typical American, huh? Always starting wars.

RENETA
There is a healthy bounty on your head.

(beat)
What were you thinking, Gringo?

GRINGO finishes his beer, lights a cig.

GRINGO
Have Jorge pull over. Call me back when you are outside, alone.

He HANGS UP. Waves to JOSE for another beer.

RENETA stares at her phone -- the nerve of this guy.

JORGE	JORGE
What happened?	Que pasó?

RENETA	RENETA
Pull over.	Párate.

JORGE	JORGE
Why?	Porqué?

RENETA	RENETA
PULL THE FUCKING CAR OVER!!!	QUE TE PARES CHINGADO!!!

MOMENTS LATER

INTERCUT - OUTSIDE DIRT ROAD / CANTINA

GRINGO'S phone rings. He answers.

RENETA
I'm alone, start talking.

RENETA is alone in a field.

GRINGO
I'm in over my head.

RENETA
How much did they pay you?

GRINGO
4k. Mother will pay me another 4k when we cross

RENETA
Where is the mom?

GRINGO
Dunno.

RENETA
So the person who is supposed to pay you 4Gs could be anywhere -- even still in Juarez?

GRINGO
 (she has a point)
 Potentially.

RENETA
 Ah, Gringo. If you needed the money, why didn't you come to me?

GRINGO
 It's not about the money. If it was,
 I'd have taken the 10K from you yesterday.

RENETA
 Gringo, help me understand. I'm trying, honestly. You've put me and Jorge at risk! Why are you doing this?

GRINGO
For her.

She crunches her hand into a fist...

RENETA
 It won't bring her back.

GRINGO takes a long drag. LONG BEAT.

GRINGO
 Can you help me?

RENETA
 Can you bring me the girl?

GRINGO
 I can't.

RENETA
 Then I'm afraid I can't help.

GRINGO
 I understand

RENETA
 (long pause)
 Gringo?

GRINGO
 Yeah?

RENETA
 What's next?

GRINGO feels someone tug on his shirt -- it's PALOMA.

HE ENDS CALL. Spins her around, hides her behind a stool.

GRINGO
 What are you doing in here!?
 (lowers voice)
 I said stay in the car. Stay in the fucking car.

JOSE comes out with bags of food. PALOMA is dancing and spinning around.

GRINGO (CONT)
 Stop!

She holds her tummy. Points to RESTROOM.

GRINGO (CONT)
 You got to be kidding?

JOSE pulls food away. GRINGO feigns a smile at him.

He escorts PALOMA to the RESTROOM. She shuts it; locks it.

MINUTES LATER - GRINGO checks his watch. She's been in there forever. Patience running out. He knocks on the door.

GRINGO (CONT)
 Let's go.

He hears banging around. Then, FLUSH. Shortly after -- another FLUSH. She still hasn't come out...

GRINGO shakes on the doorknob violently -- finally, she comes out; she grins. He grabs her arm, then grabs the food...

JOSE
 Problema, señor?

GRINGO
 No.

He pulls out a wad of cash, slams down what he owes, then leaves a generous tip. JOSE smiles.

He drags PALOMA by the wrist, escorts her to the door.

48 EXT/INT. LOWLY CANTINA -- CONTINUOUS

48

The sun pounding on their face, temporarily blinding them. PALOMA is uncooperative, tries to pull him back in.

Through the orange haze of dust and fog, THREE MALE NARCOS, arms folded, lean against their car, which is parked right next to our GRINGO's car.

GRINGO looks down at PALOMA. She glares back, her eyes saying: "see, I told you".

Before the THREE MEN can spot them, she pulls him back in.

She reaches into the bag, pulls out a carnita taco. The taco is as big as her head -- she takes an adult-sized bite.

He takes what's left from her, and tosses it back in the bag.

GRINGO
Did they see you!?

She shrugs, not understanding. So he points outside, then at his eyes, then back at her: "did they see you?".

PALOMA
No.

She reaches back in the bag, grabs her taco, finishes it.

GRINGO pulls back a curtain, spies on them. He glistens in sweat. Turns to PALOMA -- who is now at the BAR speaking to JOSE in Spanish.

GRINGO
Fuck.

He takes her by the hand, apologizes for her.

JOSE JOSE
Let her go, señor. Suéltela, señor.

He lets go. PALOMA reaches into GRINGO's pocket and takes out his wad of cash. She grabs a hundred, tucks the rest back into his pocket. She slides it to JOSE.

JOSE grins. Him and PALOMA shake on it.

OFF GRINGO's bewildered look --

CUT TO:

49 EXT. LOWLY CANTINA -- SHORTLY AFTER

49

GRINGO exits bar, holds just one container of food. Looks inside. Pleased, he closes it.

All THREE NARCOS watch him. He looks up, smiles at them.

GRINGO
Hey, do one of you think you can help me?

They look to each other, then back at the GRINGO.

GRINGO takes out his phone, pulls up GOOGLE MAPS, zooms in.

GRINGO (CONT)
I'm trying to get here. Little get away to the beach.

None of the NARCOS seem overly interested, but NARCO #1, let's call him MARIO, glances at the phone:

MARIO
Puerto Peñasco?

GRINGO
Yeah! Sorry, I have trouble with my Spanish.

MARIO
You here by yourself?

Gringo points to his food, overcompensating:

GRINGO
Uno. Just me.

MARIO
Then you wouldn't mind if I searched your car?

GRINGO
(nervous laugh)
What are you, Federales?

MARIO Sure.

NARCO #2 walks to car. Before GRINGO can respond, NARCO #2 has already opened up the front door, pops trunk. SNAPS his fingers for NARCO #3 to check trunk.

GRINGO feigns a smile at MARIO during the search. Casually takes a bite of his taco.

-- SEARCH IS OVER --

As GRINGO gets into car --

MARIO
Stay on Ascensión 2, until you get to Calle 5.

GRINGO
Gracias!

Takes out a $20 bill from his pocket.

GRINGO
Here. Get a couple beers on me!

MARIO's insulted. Shakes his head "no".

He points to the floorboard. PALOMA follows his orders. GRINGO drives forward, looks straight, both hands on the wheel. He misses the only road to COLUMBUS, NEW MEXICO.

54 EXT. AV 5 DE MAYO ROAD -- SAME 54

An UNMARKED SUV blocks all incoming traffic coming from INTERSTATE 2. TWO MEN, black balaclavas over their face, full tactical gear, AK-47S -- they look like SWAT, but they are something far more sinister.

55 INT. CAR -- PARKED -- MOMENTS LATER 55

Parked near a puny GAS STATION. GRINGO'S car sits behind a wild bush.

GRINGO'S POV -- from afar, he watches the ARMED MEN.

ON PHONE:

GRINGO

The two guys are letting traffic from Palomas through, but no one heading into town.

THROUGH THE WINDSHIELD we see them turn someone away.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

They have to know. Policia, Military?

GRINGO

Neither. Might be members of the Sinaloa Cartel

VALENTINA (V.O.)

No. They travel in larger groups. This is JUAREZ's route. They know better.

GRINGO

It's the only paved road into town.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

Are you positive it's not just a police check point?

GRINGO

I'm FUCKING positive, Valentina.

(beat)

Stop jerking me around. You better come up with a plan ASAP. You got 5 minutes.

56 INT. HOTEL ROOM -- SOMEWHERE MEXICO -- SAME

56

VALENTINA is in a pair of panties and bra. Her room is flooded with empty beer cans and tequila.

-- GRINGO HANGS UP --

She rubs her hands through her hair, takes a deep and concentrated breath.

KNOCK! KNOCK!

VALENTINA
Jesus Christ.

She throws on a bath robe and walks to the door. She looks through the peephole.

THROUGH PEEPHOLE -- a round, bull-necked KITCHEN STAFF WORKER hovers over a cart of food.

She lets him in.

VALENTINA	VALENTINA
I ordered this two hours ago.	Ordené esto hace dos horas.

WORKER pushes cart into room. Starts to unload some of the condiments on a small table.

KITCHEN WORKER	KITCHEN WORKER
Sorry, Miss. We are short-staffed today.	Disculpe señorita. Hoy andamos cortos de personal.

He removes the lid of one of the dishes, steam rises.

KITCHEN WORKER	KITCHEN WORKER
It's warm, I swear.	Sigue caliente.

She "nods" for him to continue.

He continues... THROUGH HIS REFLECTION IN A MIRROR, we watch as he lays out each plate of food. He removes the plastic off her water and glass of wine. He's fast and well-trained.

He then unfolds a white napkin. But there are no utensils in it, ONLY a GLOCK. As he reaches for it --

-- VALENTINA appears in the mirror behind WORKER. She shoots him from behind, BLOOD SPLATTERS OVER THE MIRROR. WE PUSH into his blood until it's finally obscuring everything.

SMASH CUT TO:

57 INT. GRINGO'S CAR - PARKED -- CONTINUOUS

57

PHONE RINGS. GRINGO answers.

VALENTINA (V.O.)
Get out of Chihuahua! Drive until you get to Sonora! Then find the first motel.

GRINGO
Fuck, no. That's another 2 hours!

VALENTINA (V.O.)
Do it!!!

GRINGO adjusts in his seat, he doesn't like being yelled at.

GRINGO
Now, you listen here --

VALENTINA (V.O.)
-- no, you listen! You want to see your mother again?

Gringo moves the phone to the other ear. The nerve of her...

VALENTINA (V.O.) (CONT)
Then, you better listen to me.
Otherwise, Juarez Cartel will kill your mother before the cancer does.

And on that lovely note, we PUSH IN on GRINGO, thinking...

FADE TO:

58 EXT. EL SOL MOTEL -- SUNSET

58

The THRASHING SOUND of ice being spit into a bucket. At an ICE MACHINE, our GRINGO pours ice into a dirty steel bucket.

He pins his cell phone against his ear using his chin.

GRINGO
Remember back in the day when we would travel by bus for nearly 20 hours for Indios games?

59 EXT. COUNTRYSIDE -- MEXICO -- SUNSET

59

RENETA is sprawled out on the hood of her car. Inside the car is JORGE, seat reclined back, sleeping (or passed out).

RENETA
I'm pretty sure you drove the bus back -- you were the only sober one.

GRINGO (V.O.)
Imagine that. What did our group call ourselves?

RENETA
El Kartel, right?

60 EXT. EL SOL MOTEL -- SAME

60

GRINGO walks through parking lot.

GRINGO
 That's right. Remember in Mexico City when they wouldn't let us into the game. Said we were drug dealers since we were from Juarez.

RENETA (V.O.)
 Imagine that.

GRINGO
 We were clean then. It probably didn't help I was the only white guy on a bus coming from Juarez, either.

61 EXT. COUNTRYSIDE -- MEXICO -- SAME

61

RENETA pulls a beer free from a six-pack.

RENETA
 Hey. You were the most patriotic futbol fan -- as far as Gringos go.
 (remembers)
 Not speaking Spanish didn't help, though.

They both share a laugh.

RENETA (CONT)
 How come you never learned Spanish?

GRINGO (V.O.)
 Didn't need to. You all always speak English to me.

Her brain churns -- crazy Gringo has a point...

GRINGO (V.O.)
 Reneta, you think I'll see you again?

She takes a big gulp.

RENETA
 Depends. You goin' to hand over the girl to me?

62 INT. EL SOL MOTEL -- ROOM -- SAME

62

GRINGO enters his room. Walks past a sound asleep PALOMA, who has her own bed. Bedsheets dotted with cigarette marks.

GRINGO
What's your fascination with her?
Same as mine?

He buries his hand into the ice and pulls out a chunk of cubes and puts them in a styrofoam cup, pours a fifth of whiskey into it.

RENETA (V.O.)
Gringo, CIA and DEA arrested Los Aztecas' top two men today. Juarez need someone to run Aztecas organization now. And Ahumada, Sinaloa moved in.

GRINGO
(excited!)
I told you there were new faces.

63 EXT. COUNTRYSIDE -- MEXICO -- CONTINUOUS

63

Reneta is now standing.

RENETA
Amilcar Armendarez is crumbling.
Juarez needs us more than ever before!

GRINGO (V.O.)
Uh-huh.

RENETA
Could you imagine if I brought his daughter unscathed to him? We'd be GODS.

GRINGO (V.O.)
You mean you and Jorge.

RENETA
And you!

64 INT. EL SOL MOTEL -- ROOM -- CONTINUOUS

64

GRINGO dives into his bed, flips through channels.

GRINGO
Yeah. Right after he sticks an ice pick into my spine. You know, "ice tickling", then pour gasoline over my naked body, light a match.

(pause)
 Disappear like the other thousands in Juarez.

RENETA (V.O.)
 No. We can fix this.

He looks over at PALOMA. She embodies innocence, even though she's seen more than anyone her age (or, hell, our age).

GRINGO
 She's better off with her mom. Of all people, you should understand that.

65

EXT. COUNTRYSIDE -- MEXICO -- CONTINUOUS

65

RENETA smashes her beer on the ground.

RENETA
 Fuck you, Gringo!

GRINGO (V.O.)
 (a long beat)
 I'm going to bed.

RENETA
 Gringo?

GRINGO (V.O.)
 What?

RENETA
 Juarez ain't the only place you shouldn't roll through red lights.
 Wherever you are in Mexico, remember, every red light is --

GRINGO (V.O.)
 -- a sure way to get murdered. I know.
 (beat)
 Good night, Reneta.

CALL DISCONNECTED. Reneta stares at her phone, torn.

Then -- she hits the roof of the car.

RENETA
Jorge, let's go.
 (smiles)
He's not in Juarez!

RENETA
Jorge, vámonos.
 (smiles)
No está en Juárez!

RENETA jumps in. JORGE presses the metal flat. Off they go.

66

INT. EL SOL MOTEL -- DINING ROOM -- MORNING - NEXT DAY

66

A colorful dining area. None of the colors blend. It's a slim continental breakfast.

GRINGO and PALOMA pick at their food.

GRINGO ON PHONE:

GRINGO
Nogales is out of the question. Did you confirm her mom was in the States?
 (beat) Good.

PALOMA stabs her fork into a flabby, un-cooked piece of bacon.

He sticks his finger in his throat, like he's about to puke.

She giggles -- she agrees: GROSS!

From under his shirt, he pulls out a bag of CHEETOS and slide it over to her.

She smiles from cheek to cheek -- Cheetos for breakfast!

He hands her the key card. As she hurries off --

GRINGO
 Hey, your aunt wants to talk to you.

She takes the phone. Talks fast, elated to be talking to kin.

GRINGO decides to be a trooper, attempts to finish his meal.

FEMALE VOICE/ALANA (O.S.)
 Mexico will never understand biscuits and gravy. Maybe it's a Midwest thing.

ALANA (37), clean cut, clean shoes -- clean all around, which is strange around these parts. MIXED RACE.

She takes a seat next to GRINGO, with her flimsy plate full of soggy biscuits and gravy.

ALANA
 Agent Alana Wesley, nice to meet
 you.

She flashes GRINGO her CIA badge. GRINGO goes for his gun --

ALANA (CONT)
 Relax, I'm here alone.

GRINGO still checks over his shoulder, trained.

ALANA (CONT)
Finish eating.

He does. He takes a bite, his focus never leaves ALANA.

ALANA (CONT)
Ever heard of LEY GUA?
(Gringo nods "no")
It's an ole military game still practiced in Mexico.

She takes bite of her biscuits. Lowers fork -- it's awful.

ALANA (CONT)
They kidnap you. But unlike in America where you get a trial, they actually give you a chance to escape.
(off his look)
They give you a head start. You run.
Then a line of trained gunslingers mow you down with bullets.

ALANA takes a bite, this time chews it.

ALANA (CONT)
Fascinating, huh? Almost sexy?

GRINGO fidgets.

ALANA (CONT)
MEXICAN GENERAL E. LOPEZ is looking for you. The people you passed off of DE MAYO ROAD, he contracted.

GRINGO pulls out his gun, sticks it under ALANA's chin.

GRINGO
You threatening me?

ALANA
Relax. I'm on your side. I want to give you a way out.
(mouth full of food)
Witness protection.

GRINGO lowers gun, considers.

GRINGO
And the girl?

ALANA
We are going to coax Estrella to cross back into Mexico where she will reunite with Paloma. Then file for asylum.

GRINGO

They wont grant it. And, if they did, they would release Paloma back into Mexico and hold Estrella in some dank cell in the States.

(off Alana's look)

Sorry, but the border is all about divide and conquer. Both will be dead before sundown.

(gets up)

ALANA

I want what's best for everybody -- including reuniting a mother and daughter. Its AMILCAR I'm after anyhow, Gringo.

GRINGO freezes on hearing the word "GRINGO".

(too suave)

Your mom, her name is Emma, right? I can make sure your mother has full protection and has top doctors around her in her last days. That's my promise to you.

GRINGO

And in return?

ALANA

The girl.

GRINGO studies this mysterious woman...

67

EXT/INT. ROOM -- EL SOL MOTEL -- SECONDS LATER

67

GRINGO punches the card into the holder. FLASHES GREEN. He opens it, but is stopped by a bolt.

GRINGO

It's me, open up.

GRINGO waits. Then, the door cracks open.

INSIDE - GRINGO enters and, right behind him, ALANA, who storms in front of him.

PALOMA, with Cheeto cheese all around her lips, freezes...

CRACK!

GRINGO slams the back-end of his gun against ALANA's head, knocking her out cold. PALOMA ducts out of the way.

They both stand over her.

GRINGO
Grab her legs.

He pulls ALANA by her hair. PALOMA grabs her legs/feet, wanting to help -- she's not strong enough.

GRINGO grabs a pillow case.

BATHROOM -- SECONDS LATER

GRINGO takes off his belt. Pulls ALANA against the toilet. Uses the belt to tie her arms around the toilet. Sticks a pillow case over her face. He turns on the sink faucet, then the tub facet -- creating as much noise as possible.

He takes PALOMA's hand, let's go, considers...

He feels around ALANA's neck. Then, the midline of her body. He's not finding what he's looking for, until he feels around her index finger. Bingo!

He pulls out a pocket knife, digs deep into skin: a micro "tracking" chip. He removes it, tosses it into the toilet, flushes it.

Looks to PALOMA, speaks to her, but he's really speaking out loud to himself:

GRINGO
All informants are micro-chipped these days.

He grabs her hand as they dash out --

68 EXT. EL SOL MOTEL -- BALCONY - CONTINUOUS

68

As they exit, PALOMA stops when she sees a HOUSEKEEPER. They share a look.

She holds up her finger: "wait a sec'". Goes back inside, comes out with a "DO NOT DISTURB" sign. She positions it perfectly on the door knob.

GRINGO, PALOMA smile at each other, burst into LAUGHTER. They make a great team.

69 INT. VALENTINA'S CAR -- MOVING -- MORNING

69

VALENTINA drives as she loads shells into her gun's chamber. On the passenger's seat sits a semi automatic and half dozen grenades. She drives with purpose. ON SPEAKER PHONE:

GRINGO (V.O.)
My mother's nurse called. She's not doing well. I need to get to my mom ASAP.

VALENTINA

You're not the only one. You need to cross in Nogales. Arizona is your best option.

GRINGO (V.O.)

I already told you, Nogales is a no. Too congested and dangerous.
(here's gun)
Where are you?

VALENTINA

Torreón.

GRINGO (V.O.)

Jesus.

VALENTINA

I'm heading to Guatemala.

70 INT. GRINGO'S CAR -- MOVING -- CONTINUOUS

70

GRINGO looks back at PALOMA, who was stealing a look, but swiftly turns her gaze outside.

GRINGO

What's in Guatemala?

VALENTINA (V.O.)

Options. I don't have time to explain, I just have to get out of Mexico.
(loads gun)
And so do you.

CUT TO:

71 EXT. GRINGO'S CAR -- MEXICO COUNTRYSIDE -- MOMENTS LATER

71

HIGH IN THE AIR as we TRACK GRINGO's car sweep through the countryside -- we are in the middle of fucking nowhere...

GRINGO (V.O.)

The closes port of entry is in Agua Prieta, 'bout an hour from here.

VALENTINA (V.O.)

That's shaky land, white boy. That's where those Mormon moms and kids were slaughtered.

Not a single cloud in the sky. The blistering sun smacking the mountains as GRINGO's car pushes up a large mound.

GRINGO (V.O.)
I have an old buddy from Phoenix that now lives in Douglas. He might be able to help...

DISSOLVE TO:

72

EXT. DOUGLAS, ARIZONA -- BORDER -- DAY

72

A paper map of COCHISE COUNTY is sprawled on the dirt, size of a quilt. RED marks, X's and O's, the whole nine yards.

TONS OF CHATTER. Spanish and English. Someone uses their FOOT to point at a specific mark.

TONY
God dammit! Don't smudge the bitch!

TONY (34) pushes BORDER AGENT #1 (LARKIN) away. We have a better grip of our bearings -- gravel sand, brush, cacti -- we are in the middle of the desert.

TONY is surrounded by TWO BORDER AGENTS and SANTIAGO and his PARTNER, both MEXICAN COYOTES. LARKIN uses his finger this time to point:

AGENT LARKIN
I can let 4 in right here.

SANTIAGO
Tony, we talked about this, I sa--

SANTIAGO
Tony, ya hablamos de esto, dije que-

TONY
-- I know, I know!
(to Larkin)
10, okay? There's no money in 4.

TONY
-- ya se, ya se!
(to Agent #1)
10, okay? There's no money in 4.

COYOTE PARTNER
(points at map)
I got 25 coming in here. Half are Chinese. Their family lives in SEDONA and are paying good money.

COYOTE PARTNER
(points at map)
Vienen 25 en camino. La mitad son chinos. Sus familias viven en SEDONA y pagan buena lana.

TONY
What 'bout the cartel?

COYOTE PARTNER (CONT)
We got to pay them 10%, but we will still get our fair share -- and then some!

COYOTE PARTNER
Les tenemos que dar el 10%, pero aún así nos llevamos buena feria.

TONY
(to Agent #2)
What time does Terry's shift end?

AGENT #2
Nine tonight.

TONY
Good. Let's move the group from Salvador at 11PM then. Gives Michaels time to do his rounds.
(to Santiago)
You said we got a group at 3AM?

SANTIAGO
Si. But in total they can only pay 7 grand, amigo.

SANTIAGO
Si. Pero en total solo pueden pagar 7 mil, amigo.

TONY
Shit. Only 7?

AGENT LARKIN
Oh, hell no. Tony, I got a wife and kids, man.

TONY
And a mistress.

AGENT LARKIN
Exactly. 7k ain't worth the risk.

SANTIAGO
(to Tony)
They are relatives of a family I help cross before; they got more family coming in from Belize. It's a good gesture run. There will be plenty more!

SANTIAGO
(to Tony)
Son parientes de unos que ya ayudé a cruzar antes; tienen mas familia viniendo de Belize. Nos conviene. Luego habrá más!

Tony thinks on it -- it doesn't take him long. TO AGENT:

TONY
It's fine.

AGENT LARKIN looks to AGENT #2. They share a look of agreement.

AGENT LARKIN
I don't like them not speaking English. I know these wetbacks speak the language!
(looks directly at Coyotes) Comprende?

SANTIAGO, COYOTE go after AGENT LARKIN's juggler. They step all over the map. AGENT #2 tries to break it up -- not taking sides.

TONY grabs AGENT LARKIN, takes him to the side --

TONY
 You ever call them that again and I'll get you where it hurts -- your MEXICAN mistress. Cut her fucking tits off!

AGENT LARKIN nods his head -- it won't happen again.

-- TONY'S PHONE RINGS --

TONY
 (not looking at caller)
 What? Wait, who is this?
 (beat)
 Get the fuck out of here!

TONY walks right on top of the map, heads north. We get a better look at where they actually are -- BORDER WALL.

Tony casually leans against the WALL.

GRINGO (V.O.)
 I'm on my way to Phoenix, bro. You free, by chance?

TONY
 Shit, man. If I would have known, I'd of driven my ass up there. I'm still down here in Douglas.

GRINGO (V.O.)
 Still go into Auga Prieta?

TONY
 (proud)
 You know it.

GRINGO (V.O.)
 Border Patrol in Douglas still corrupt as fuck?

TONY
 (even prouder)
 You know it.

CUT TO:

73

EXT. BAR -- PATIO -- AUGA PRIETA -- AFTERNOON

73

GRINGO and PALOMA sit on plastic chairs around a table top the size of a basketball. A painting of The Virgin of Guadalupe directly behind them -- the sunlight nearly gives her a halo. Place is hopping, which is a welcoming change.

GRINGO's face lights up:

GRINGO
 Tony fuckin' Tatum! You, old dog!

TONY enters. He fits the part. Mexico is his second home.

TONY
You son-of-a-bitch.

They bear hug; it's been a LONG time. GRINGO pulls up a chair for TONY.

TONY spots the girl.

TONY
I knew you liked them Latin girls, but ain't she a little young?

GRINGO raises his hand, stops him before he goes any further.

GRINGO
I'm going to cut to the chase.

TONY waves down WAITRESS. TONY's phone won't stop vibrating.

TONY
Scotch on the rocks.
(to Gringo)
You'd be surprised how good the Scotch is out here.

FEDERALE HUMMER prowls down a street littered with packing-crate houses. GRINGO grabs onto PALOMA's hand, his "antenna" goes up. TONY catches this.

GRINGO
We need to cross.

TONY
You got a passport.

GRINGO
She doesn't.

TONY gives her a once over.

TONY
Who is she?

GRINGO
My girlfriend's little girl. We are trying to get her across.

TONY
(waving his hands)
Wow, wow. Didn't your stupid ass get in trouble for doing this befo--

GRINGO
-- stop. This is different. And what you are about to say is totally ancient history.

WAITRESS brings TONY drink.

TONY
You ain't drinkin'?

GRINGO
No.
(to Waitress)
Actually, yeah -- get me three finger Casa Noble. Neat.

PALOMA shakes her head in disgust. TONY'S phone buzzes again.

GRINGO
Jesus, that phone ever stop ringing?

TONY
The day this phone stops ringing, is the day "they" kill me...

GRINGO studies TONY'S stone-cold face...

GRINGO
Look. I know you are the cowboy, and this is your rodeo.

TONY admires his drink, like an expert. Then -- downs it, like a frat boy.

TONY
Well, fuck. I may be, but to be a "cowboy", you got to look the part.
You got clothing and gear. Don't forget the hat. A good bull rider got to get a mouthpiece, so his teeth don't get knocked out. You got the glove tie and glove. Spurs.
Chaps. And --

GRINGO
-- I get it. I'm not asking you to do this for free. I can give you a lil up front, an additional 4K once you get us across.
(off his look)
I might be able to finagle a lil more once we cross.

WAITRESS brings GRINGO his drink. He downs it.

TONY
How much upfront?

GRINGO
.. $500?

TONY
 Ah. Damn.
 (calculates)
 Okay. I can throw her in with a group leaving tonight.

GRINGO leans in, serious as ever:

GRINGO
 No, Tony. We cross alone. And we travel by car.

TONY
 No way.

He pulls his chair next to TONY, practically on his knees:

GRINGO
 Tony, please. For old times. My mom is dying. I need to get up there.
 And you know a little girl cant cross in those groups.

TONY
 They do all the time.

GRINGO
 Yeah, with big brother or big mama bear. But never by themselves or with some pasty-ass white boy.

TONY finds humor in that. He pulls out a baggie -- he rolls his own cigs - unless it's Mary Jane?

TONY
 Tonight's out of the question, but I can get you two across tomorrow at 3PM by car. You will have to find your own place to stay.

Good enough! GRINGO kisses him on the forehead, exuberant.

He steps away to make a phone call:

GRINGO
 We are golden. Tomorrow, we cross.

VALENTINA (V.O.)
 You have to cross tonight.

GRINGO
 No. Listen --

VALENTINA (V.O.)
 -- no, you listen. Estrella is expecting a drop off in Agua Parieta. Don't fuck this up!

GRINGO
Then have her fucking wait!

VALENTINA (V.O.)
I'll be in Guatemala by tomorrow morning. I'll have no way to communicate.
(beat)
It. Has. To. Happen. Tonight.

GRINGO bites his upper lip, does circles, furious.

TONY, while trying all he can do to avoid the girl, accidentally makes eye contact with PALOMA.

TONY
(referring to phone call)
Trouble in paradise?

TONY fakes a laugh. PALOMA not impressed. She picks up on something, her six sense -- she doesn't like him.

More ARGUING can be heard. And, then --

GRINGO
Tony, is there any other options?

TONY takes a small sip, grins:

TONY
There is always NACO.

DISSOLVE TO:

EXT. NACO, MEXICO -- LATE AFTERNOON

NOTE: The following VOICE OVER will be done over jump cuts, lightening-fast montages, changes in color saturation and focal depth/length.

VARIOUS SHOTS of the drive from AGUA PRIETA to NACO, MEXICO.

TONY (V.O.)
You're know when you are in Naco -- 'bout every other house still has bullet holes from the Mexican Revolutionary war... seriously.

We drive up against the BORDER WALL, until the road drifts off into a more desolate setting in the mountains.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
Naco's port of entry only has 2 lanes; and at 8PM it goes to 1 lane.
(beat)
We will have a fall guy driving in a car in front of you.

The tires of his car will be sprayed in synthetic deer scent urine, which will drive the drug dogs nuts; prompting them to pull the car over.

PORT OF ENTRY SIGNS begin to appear as we coast down a one-lane road: Av. Francisco I. Madero.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
You will be smuggling 4 people in the back of your trunk.

GRINGO (V.O.)
I'm not comfortable with that.

The tiny town of NACO, SONORA, can be seen ahead. QUICK SHOTS of cars entering and leaving PORT OF ENTRY.

GRINGO's car pulls next to a MAKE-SHIFT WAREHOUSE nearby.

GRINGO and PALOMA get out of the car. Hand keys over to a hairy, shirtless "MECHANIC".

TONY (V.O.)
We have a guy who will create more room in your car. It's either that, or you two walk.
(beat)
Take it or leave it.

GRINGO (V.O.)
I'm trusting you, Tony.

2 ELDERLY HONDURAN WOMEN, a HONDURAN TEENAGER (17) and a MIDDLE-AGED CUBAN MAN are handed JUGS OF WATER, clammy FOOD on a paper plate, and a WOOL BLANKET by a SMUGGLER.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
Human smuggling is different in Naco. Coyotes are paranoid.

GRINGO and PALOMA take the handouts.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
In order to not provoke suspicion, you 2 will go through the process.

75

INT. TINY ROOM -- MAKESHIFT WAREHOUSE -- CONTINUOUS

75

TONY (V.O.)
Understand, that after you drop these 4 off, they still have a long trek ahead, so --

This damp room has a ribbon of fresh blood trails on the floor and walls. Curtains are drawn tight, with just slivers of light illuminating this hell hole.

 -- a man that goes only by "S" will prepare them psychologically before crossing. Including noise control.

"S" enters, takes their food away. He slaps the CUBAN. He takes a piss against the wall as he barks orders at them.
 It's inhumane. Following "S" orders, a SCRAWNY NACRO enters.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
 Once "S" is done, some low-level scum bag who works for Sinaloa will arrive.

GRINGO and PALOMA slide to a part of the room with the least amount of light, concealing their identity. GRINGO subtly reaches down to his ankle, feels around -- gun strapped.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
 He's just doing a head count, making sure "S" is paying the fair amount for their protection.

Once the SCRAWNY NARCO leaves, "S" shouts slurs their way, pulls out his phone, slams it up against the TEENAGER's ear.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
 Coyotes triple prices when immigrants get this close, especially if they know they got family on the other end.

TEENAGER pleads with someone over the phone for more money.

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
 You're the driver, so you're exempt.

PALOMA curls up next to GRINGO, overwhelmed...

TONY (V.O.) (CONT)
 Other than that, you 2 are aces.

FADE TO BLACK.

TINY ROOM/WAREHOUSE -- LATER

GRINGO, PALOMA, OUR 4 IMMIGRANTS, and "S" sit in silence.

"S" carves the letter "S" into the damp concrete floor. He spits sunflower seeds as he digs his switchblade deeper and deeper into the ground. He then removes a baggie of coke from his pocket, using his knife to do a line. GRINGO notices a tiny PEACOCK LOGO on the bag, recalls seeing that before (start of film), and then --

DOOR OPENS. A liberal stretch of sunlight blasts through.

-- HERMETIC THUDDING SOUND --

WE ADJUST TO THE SUDDEN CHANGE OF LIGHT.

SCRAWNY NARCO comes back. Behind him SANTIAGO.

WHISPERS, as both stare at PALOMA.

SANTIAGO pulls out a flip phone from his pocket, already open, screen lit -- someone on hold. SANTIAGO turns his back against us, speaks softly into phone...

AND THEN --

SANTIAGO (to "S") Change of plans! Move, fuckers! (to Immigrants) We're crossing by foot!	SANTIAGO (to "S") Cambio de planes! Muévanse cabrones! (to Immigrants) Cruzaremos a pie!
--	---

"S" rounds up the immigrants, minus PALOMA and GRINGO, prods them as if they were cattle, marshalled out.

GRINGO follows behind (not understanding Spanish), as POLIMA stays back -- knows. The door closes behind GRINGO. NARCO stands in his way.

GRINGO
I'm on a schedule, amigo. Move.

NARCO pulls up his shirt, reveals a GLOCK.

From corner, SANTIAGO shouts at PALOMA -- it's all so fast, it's impossible to make out what he just said.

GRINGO (CONT)
What the hell is going on here!?

He looks to PALOMA... then to SANTIAGO, NARCO.

GRINGO (CONT)
Someone needs to speak English to me right now. I know how the border works, assholes.

SANTIAGO still has his flip phone open (someone on the line).

SANTIAGO
(beat)
Change of plans.

GRINGO
Bull shit. Tony and I --

SANTIAGO
-- Tony is no longer in charge.

GRINGO
(re: phone)
Who is that?

SANTIAGO

Tony.

GRINGO

Give me the phone!

SANTIAGO turns, speaks softly, LAUGHS, swings around, hands GRINGO phone. GRINGO turns his back on them, talks:

GRINGO (CONT)

Tony, what the fuck is going on?

(no answer)

Tony!?!?

TONY (V.O.)

I'm really sorry.

GRINGO

About what!?

TONY (V.O.)

This.

GRINGO turns around -- now has GUNS DRAWN ON HIM.

A moment of defeat in GRINGO's eyes -- he cant catch a break.

PALOMA picks up on this, reacts -- SCREAMS AT FULL FORCE!

Both MEN turn to the tumult of screaming.

GRINGO reaches for his gun strapped around his ankle. As BOTH MEN turn back, GRINGO grabs the closest person (NARCO), uses him as a shield as SANTIAGO fires multiple rounds. NARCO shakes as if he's being electrocuted.

Still using his body as a shield, GRINGO rapidly fires at SANTIAGO, shooting him point blank.

GRINGO

FUCK!

GRINGO tries to make out what just happened. Looks to PALOMA who is now doused in BLOOD.

GRINGO (CONT)

Grab your stuff, let's go!

GRINGO grabs his blanket/jugs of water. So does PALOMA.

76

EXT. CURB -- MAKESHIFT WAREHOUSE -- CONTINUOUS

76

MECHANIC abandons his toolbox, leaves trunk wide open, runs to driver's side door...

GRINGO and PALOMA crash through warehouse side door...

GRINGO spots MECHANIC attempting to flee in their car. GRINGO shoots -- misses.

Instead of jumping into car, MECHANIC pauses to reach for his own firearm -- mistake.

GRINGO shoots again. GETS HIM. They hop in; take off.

CUT TO BLACK:

FEMALE NURSE (PRE-LAP)
 It's Linda with Hospice.
 (the longest beat ever)
 ... your mother went to be with the Lord at 4:22 this afternoon...

77

INT. CAR -- NACO ABANDONED LOT -- SUNSET

77

Somewhere in the open desert, GRINGO's car is parked. Wherever they are it's barren and desolate -- something out of a horror movie.

GRINGO hangs up the phone, doesn't listen to the rest of the Voicemail...

He pounds the steering wheel, turns it into a pretzel. He attempts to pull the damn thing off the steering column.

He feels PALOMA's gaze. He looks at her through the rear-view mirror. Her eyes ooze with remorse.

She's strong, but even she can't hold back a tear. GRINGO isn't buying it, resents her...

BOTH AT A LOSS FOR WORDS; no noise, minus a faint chop of a distant U.S. BLACK HAWK HELICOPTER toeing the border.

THEN -- a LONE PERSON lugging what looks like a suitcase appears. He walks sluggishly down the broken "sidewalk".

GRINGO draws his gun, presses it against his chest. He's already created enough blood -- a little more won't hurt.

Our MAN now appears. He's lugging a large COOLER on wheels. He's an older fellow, a calm fellow. Let's call him BERTO.

GRINGO pulls focus to this strange man. Considers.

78

EXT. NACO ABANDONED LOT -- MOMENTS LATER

78

GRINGO races to BERTO. BERTO instantly notices the gun, stops, waves his arms up, surrenders. GRINGO tries to calm him -- but when you live on the US-MEXICO BORDER you can't take any chances.

GRINGO pulls out his phone. GOOGLE MAP already up. We are ZOOMED IN on the NACO-SIERRA VISTA (U.S.) map.

GRINGO
I need to get here.
(re: Sierra Vista)

Dripping in sweat, BERTO shakes his head "no".

GRINGO (CONT.)
There is money in it. But I need you to speak English.

He takes a few steps back -- he really doesn't speak the language. GRINGO takes a second; he has to think fast - LIGHT BULB MOMENT --

-- he snatches PALOMA, drags her out of the car. GRINGO uses his fingers and hands (even his legs) to illustrate what he's asking for. It's like a game of charades.

STILL, NOTHING. BERTO makes the "sign of the cross". Fears for his life. When --

PALOMA	PALOMA
Please, señor. We need your help.	Por favor, señor. Necesitamos ayuda.

BERTO take's GRINGO's phone, willing to take a look-see.

GRINGO points at a spot on the map. BERTO nods "no". GRINGO points at another spot. BERTO nods "no" again.

GRINGO kicks the dirt, paces back and forth -- livid.

THEN -- PALOMA grabs BERTO's hand. They share a moment. BERTO gets it -- he has kids; hell, probably even granddaughters.

BERTO takes the phone, ZOOMS IN with his fingers. We get a CLOSE-UP of the area he's referring to. Looks to PALOMA:

BERTO	BERTO
No walls. Just a fence. Watch out for the "eye" in the sky.	No hay muro ni cerca. Solo cuídense del "ojo" en el cielo.

GRINGO looks to PALOMA for a translation. She nods to the GRINGO -- she trusts him.

GRINGO, still suspect, kicks open the cooler. Now only water, at one time ice. He digs through. A single beer... and, wait, a bottle of TEQUILA?

GRINGO
How much?

BERTO waves his hands. Hands him the Tequila. It's FREE.

GRINGO inserts a HUNDRED DOLLAR bill in man's breast pocket.

OVER BLACK:

GRINGO (V.O.)
Listen closely. There is an old fort in Sierra Vista, Arizona. You can only get to it by foot.

She puts the phone under her ear discreetly...

GRINGO (V.O.)
It's an 11-hour hike. Her and I are (off her silence)

You think I'm playin'?

VALENTINA (V.O.)
Let me see if I can get a hold of

GRINGO

Maybe this will help you understand

GRINGO pulls out his gun, presses it against PALOMA's temple.
The two of them look deep into each other's eyes...

GRINGO (CONT.)
 Your niece is feeling the metal of my gun right now. I'll blow her fucking brains out and no one would Fine.

84 INT. RENETA'S CAR -- NIGHT 84

JORGE and RENETA rest their eyes, semi-reclined.

-- CELL PHONE RINGS --

JORGE goes for his beer, while RENETA goes for the phone.

RENETA

Gringo, is that you!?

(listens)

For Christ sake's, answer me when I call!

GRINGO (V.O.)

I need a favor.

RENETA

Ah, Gringo. We are past favors.

GRINGO (V.O.)

You want the girl?

RENETA readjusts -- a loaded question she wasn't expecting.

85 EXT. GRINGO'S CAR -- CONTINUOUS 85

GRINGO is leaning against his car, takes a drag from a cig.

GRINGO

My mom died. I need a ride up to Phoenix to handle the paperwork.

RENETA (V.O.)

(a long pause)

I'm sorry...

GRINGO

We are walking on foot tomorrow. There is an old fort -- in Naco, Arizona...

RENETA
Will the girl be there?

GRINGO ducts down, looks through back window, sees PALOMA.

GRINGO
Ya.

CUT TO:

86 INT. RENETA'S CAR -- CONTINUOUS

RENETA takes a swig from JORGE'S beer.

GRINGO (V.O.)
Be there right at sundown. Naco is a

There's an hour time difference.

RENETA
Gringo, Sinaloa lives in those

GRINGO (V.O.)
So?

RENETA
If they find her before you cross,
Juarez is crushed.

GRINGO (V.O.)
FUCK. EVERY. LAST. ONE. OF. THEM.

-- CALL DISCONNECTED --

RENETA nods to JORGE to start the car. HEADLIGHTS come on.

EVERYTHING ILLUMINATED. They are parked on a side street near the PORT OF ENTRY: UNITED STATES BORDER STATION, NACO, AZ.

FADE TO:

87 INT. GRINGO'S CAR -- NIGHT

87

Like most nights in the desert, a tranquil landscape, small glints of moonlight paint the inside of the vehicle.

GRINGO has seat reclined all the way back. He's wrapped in the blanket from before.

UNDER his reclined seat: PALOMA'S FEET. She is stretched out in the back, also using her wool blanket.

GRINGO
 (like a kid)
 You asleep?

He turns his head, PALOMA is wide-awake. He takes a swig of his Tequila.

GRINGO (CONT)
 You know what's ironic?

She doesn't know. Hell, she doesn't speak the same language.

GRINGO (CONT)
 I won't get to see my mom on this trip.

Takes another liberal drink.

GRINGO (CONT)
 Messed up, huh? But I'm not gonna let that happen to you.

She studies him. Eyes wide -- she admires him, strangely.

Takes another swig. Puts it down on the center console.

PALOMA snatches it. Impressionable, she sips it.

GRINGO (CONT)
 No! That's not water!

She cringes. Eyes squinted -- that was rough.

GRINGO (CONT)
 See!

As if she's trying to one up him, she takes another swig. This time she doesn't cringe. Swirls it in her mouth as if it were wine -- swallows. Slams it on the console!

GRINGO (CONT)
 Good to know, because I never did trust a person who didn't drink.

He takes a drink. Puts it down. See reaches for it again. He swats at her small fingers.

GRINGO (CONT)
 You've reached your limit.

A LONG SILENCE -- but serene. AND THEN --

GRINGO (CONT)
 I guess now that we're drinkin' buddies, I can tell you somethin'.

She has no idea what this "crazy" GRINGO is babbling about, but he has stolen her heart -- she listens, childish grin.

GRINGO folds his hands behind his head.

TIGHT ON GRINGO -- million mile stare, eyes glaze over...

GRINGO (CONT)

I was 23 when I was stationed at Fort Bliss in El Paso. I met this Mexican girl at a bar, she was 3 years younger.

PALOMA all eyes and ears...

GRINGO (CONT)

She was underage, of course, but they were not IDing, which was good since she was an illegal.

The word "illegal" triggers something in PALOMA.

GRINGO (V.O.)

We hung out a few times after. It was clear she was only hanging out with me to develop her English.

A tiny glint in our GRINGO's eyes...

GRINGO (CONT)

But, I didn't care. Just being in her presence was worth every second.
(looks to backseat)
I'm telling you, Paloma, this girl had it. And whatever "it" was, I desperately wanted IT in my life.

GRINGO enjoys another sip -- except this time it's out of necessity...

GRINGO (CONT)

She introduced me to her 4-year old girl, Letizia. Dad was murdered a few years back. I used to go to the Dollar Tree and stock up on toys. I didn't have much money then -- hell, I don't have it now, but I'd bring her something new every time.

88

FLASHBACK -- INT. PAWN SHOP - EL PASO -- 2013

88

Backside of a MEXICAN GIRL (20), long hair down to her hips, as she checks prices on products and does inventory. OUR FOCUS is on a 4 year-old (LETIZIA) who sits cross-legged by her mom's side, hands her price labels to stick on product. LETIZIA was the girl in the backseat earlier.

GRINGO (V.O.)

She worked at a 24-hour pawn shop that didn't go by the "books".

HENRY DUGAS, I'll never forget his name. He owned it. He only had two employees -- both illegal.

END FLASHBACK.

89 INT. CAR -- ABANDONED LOT -- PRESENT DAY

89

Still a million mile stare from GRINGO...

GRINGO polishes off the bottle.

GRINGO

She came to my doorstep crying one day after John punched her in the eye. She went on to tell me that he was only paying her $4 an hour, and made her work 16-hour shifts. If she went to the authorities, he'd have her deported. And she didn't want to risk her daughter being alone here.

The word "deported" grabs PALOMA's gaze again...

90

We see HENRY DUGAS; a four-eyed bastard, white as fucking Christmas, no taller than five foot five.

We watch as he cons a LEBANESE MAN into buying a broken TV.

GRINGO (V.O.)

She asked me to promise her that I wouldn't overreact. She just needed somewhere safe for her and her daughter while everything blew over. Her English still was poor, but she had never spoken more clearer ENGLISH then when she told me to not get involved...

AND, THEN --

A younger GRINGO marches into the PAWN SHOP. He knocks over stereos, ancient computers, even archery supplies.

GRINGO (V.O.)

Being young and in the army, I had no idea how the world worked, let alone the border.

GRINGO picks HENRY up, slams him on top of a glass cabinet. CUSTOMER flees. While inaudible, we see GRINGO shout at him.

GRINGO (V.O.)

All I remember telling him was if he ever touched her again I'd kill him.

Sees sunrise right in front of him. Looks to PALOMA; the side of his face has a steering wheel imprint.

CUT TO:

94 EXT. OUTSIDE OF CAR -- SONORAN DESERT -- EARLY MORNING 94

QUICK JUMP CUTS: GRINGO does jumping jacks, prepares physically and mentally. Then some quick push-ups. PALOMA, wanting to be like GRINGO, attempts a push-up herself...

GRINGO grabs gun, chambers a round. PALOMA gathers up their belongings (water/blankets). Behind the lot, GRINGO digs a ditch, tosses keys into hole.

95 EXT. EDGE OF DESERT -- CONTINUOUS 95

WE ARE BEHIND GRINGO, PALOMA as they take everything in. Breathtaking mountain ranges. They have to crane their neck just to see how vast it is. They share a look...

PALOMA kneels. Says a silent PRAYER.

Onward...

QUICK JUMP CUTS: Swaying grassland; rattlesnakes slither by; blankets of mesquite, saguaro and barrel cactus; dirt and sand flutter in the wind, temporarily blinds our two characters at times.

CREST OF THE MOUNTAINS

GRINGO has a step on PALOMA; she attempts to keep up. They take a short water break. Dangerous desert terrain as far as the eye can see.

ARIEL SHOT as we watch them climb the first mountain; they make it; look out -- this isn't even the largest mountain peak. Surrounded by low valleys. They are higher than the plethora of vultures buzzing below.

QUICK CUTAWAYS: mountain lion, coyotes, javelinas, herd of bighorn sheep -- lizards out of a Jurassic Park movie.

LATER

They sit under a mammoth JOSHUA TREE. They pass a jug of water back and forth. GRINGO checks phone: NO SERVICE... BATTERY ALREADY DRAINING.

SECONDS LATER

As they continue on, the sun shifts in the sky; goes from French sky blues to navy blues, back to vivid. Torrid, scorching heat pounding on our characters. GRINGO takes off his shirt.

SHORTLY AFTER

His back is blistering RED; puts shirt back on. PALOMA takes the lead; GRINGO sluggish... the heat (and hangover) take control...

AND THEN --

GRINGO collapses. PALOMA runs to him --

CUT TO:

96 INT. RENETA'S CAR -- PARKED -- NACO, ARIZONA -- SAME 96

JORGE, RENETA sit earnestly. Through the windshield we see FORT NACO (1917). Withered and faded adobe, wooden buildings, no roofs. Gated by barbed wire.

RENETA takes a big hit of her cig, holds it, lets it slither out of the corners of her mouth and nose -- almost sexual.

JORGE nurses a beer. Finishes. Tosses it out of the car.

A line of FEDERAL BORDER AGENT VEHICLES pass by. Once out of view, RENETA gets out, walks to FORT.

FADE TO:

97 EXT. SONORAN DESERT -- LATER 97

GRINGO rested under an alamos tree. Semi-unconscious. PALOMA presses the tip of the water jug against GRINGO's lips, lets it drip into his mouth... it trickles down his shirt...

-- MULTIPLE FOOTSTEPS --

Someone (or something) is nearby...

PALOMA tugs on GRINGO -- she really needs him alert. Nothing.

AND THEN --

THREE MEXICAN IMMIGRANT MEN congregate around PALOMA, GRINGO.

Labored breaths all around. Time stands still. The sound of crows and wind...

PALOMA stands her ground, stares down the THREE MEN...

One of the IMMIGRANT's removes his book bag. He pulls out an ammonia inhalant (AKA smelling salts). He walks to the GRINGO, presses it under GRINGO's nose.

AND WITHIN SECONDS, GRINGO sprouts up, attentive. He struggles to get his bearings, turns vigilant for a moment... that is, until he realizes the THREE MEN in front of him come in peace...

The same MAN reaches back into his bag, walks back over to PALOMA, GRINGO, dumps out its contents: whole-grain tortillas, granola bars, trail mix, and fruit.

IMMIGRANT
See you two on the other side.

IMMIGRANT
Los veo del otro lado.

And like a strike of lightning in a thunderstorm, the three immigrants desert us, disappear in the unforgiving desert.

GRINGO, PALOMA go to town on the food, as if it were Christmas morning. As GRINGO eats, he spots a stamp on the almos tree: PEACOCK LOGO. GRINGO ponders...

CUT TO:

98 EXT. NACO FORT -- SAME

98

RENETA peeps through the barbed wire. Studies this 100 year-old abandoned fort, contemplates...

Scans city. Trailer parks. Modest homes. Churches. THE WALL can be seen in the distance.

-- SOUND OF A MILITARY CHOPPER ABOVE --

A woman's intuition. This isn't right --

CUT TO:

99 INT. RENETA'S CAR -- PARKED -- CONTINUOUS

99

JORGE nurses a new beer, looks straight ahead:

JORGE
Why do you keep trusting this mother fucker?

JORGE
Porqué sigues confiando en

RENETA
He's not crossing into Naco.

RENETA
No va a cruzar por Naco.

JORGE
No shit, Reneta. You're no longer in charge of finding the girl.

JORGE Mierda Renata. Ya no estas a cargo de encontrar a la niña.

He sees what looks like a GIANT GOLD FISH (AKA HOVER IN THE SKY), a drone used by local military and borer patrol.

JORGE makes a phone call:

It may seem too easy, but in this bleak and wild desert, where thousands have lost their lives along the way, a fence is fair; think of it as an award: a rail, not a wall.

GRINGO holds PALOMA up, lifts her over. GRINGO pads the fence with wool blankets, curving some of the "anti climb" spikes.

FOR THE FIRST TIME, GRINGO/PALOMA ARE IN THE UNITED STATES...

LONG DIRT ROAD from afar sits a BORDER JEEP. They freeze. Drop to ground, blend into the earth.

THEN -- JEEP hurries off, out of view.

Onward...

Passing yellow signs: CAUTION: ILLEGAL ALIEN CROSSING.

CUT TO:

101

EXT. CORONADO NATIONAL FOREST -- SAME

101

HIKING TRAIL. Picnic tables. An INFORMATION CENTER close by. A few FAMILIES exit the trails, hop in their car, head out before the sun starts to set.

JORGE leans against his car, lights a cig. RENETA approaches. They both eye a trail that leads up. A sign: BEAR COUNTRY.

JORGE
You want me to come?

JORGE
Quieres que te acompañe?

RENETA
No. I need to do this alone.

RENETA
No. Necesito hacer esto yo sola.

JORGE
(points to watch)
You got 10 minutes, or I'm doing it.

JORGE
(points to watch)
Tienes 10 minutos, o lo hago yo.

She understands. She makes her way up the trail.

A HIKER FEMALE (30's), HHIKER MALE (30's), total hipsters, come down the trail. They see JORGE smoking. They are genuinely outraged and beside themselves.

HIKER FEMALE
Excuse me, sir, but this is protected land, and what you are doing...

Her dialogue picks up, muffled -- JORGE'S POV as he narrows in on her lips moving at lighting-speed. She's animated.

... I have no problem calling the park ranger. We hike here daily, and we know people...

JORGE reaches into his back pocket, grips his pistol. He wants nothing more than to put a bullet through her flapping gums. AND THEN -- he unclenches the gun. Puts out the cig.

The TWO HIPSTERS smile at each other, feeling accomplished.

CUT TO:

102

EXT. CAR CANYON FORT -- SIERRA VISTA -- SHORTLY AFTER

102

CARR CANYON HOUSE/FORT. All ruins. Only remains, old living quarters made of stone in the 1800s. Scattered about.

GRINGO, PALOMA appear. They stare ahead. Looks like a MOUSE MAZE. Sunset almost upon us...

GRINGO's military training comes back to him. He finds the nearest stone, stands behind it, peeks his head around.

SOMEONE'S POV -- eyes pinned on GRINGO, PALOMA.

-- SOUND OF FOOTSTEPS --

PALOMA reacts to the sound, chases after it --

-- GRINGO reels her back in. Pins her against him as if she were a third hip. He takes out his gun, presses it evenly against his thigh.

Puts his finger against his lips. PALOMA about to burst.

Together, in stride, they move to an open area. Grass is trimmed, plenty of walkways -- polar opposite of where they've just been.

SOMEONE'S POV -- still watching, but FOCUS now on PALOMA.

-- GRINGO WHISTLES --

Nothing. Just the sound of a few birds overhead.

Mama!

PALOMA

Mamá!

PALOMA

GRINGO grabs her mouth with his hand -- shh! Paloma frowns.

He opens up his phone -- dead. He tries starting it back up - - there's not enough juice.

FROM BEHIND --

RENETA (O.S.)
Ah, Gringo.

In unison, GRINGO and PALOMA turn around.

RENETA, hips even with arms, regal as ever. As if she built this fort with her bare hands.

GRINGO, RENETA stare, neither blink... and then --

GRINGO grips gun -- RENETA catches this -- and like an old western, she whips her gun out first, trains it on GRINGO.

With her free hand, she pulls out a FLASK from her back pocket. Waves it in front of GRINGO.

RENETA (CONT)
Figured you'd be thirsty after a trek like that.

GRINGO squints. RENETA nods at his gun.

RENETA (CONT)
Throw it over to me.

GRINGO obliges. Tosses it by her feet. RENETA returns the favor, tosses GRINGO flask.

He picks it up. Unscrews. Sniffs.

GRINGO
Bourbon?

RENETA
Just like you like it.

Takes a swig. This is the good stuff. He takes another sip.

RENETA (CONT)
You lied to me.

GRINGO
(wipes upper lip)
You lied to me.

RENETA
How so?

GRINGO
Jorge's load, 3 nights ago in Villa Ahumada, that was Sinaloa, wasn't it?

She walks over to GRINGO, takes the flask from him. Enjoys a gulp herself.

RENETA
Gringo, you're sober -- drink.

Hands it back.

GRINGO
The logo, Reneta. The peacock.

RENETA
You saw a peacock? Gringo, what the fuck you talkin' 'bout?
(hurries)
Hand me the girl. She's going back to her dad.

He slides PALOMA behind him so she won't see what's destined to happen...

RENETA has the perfect poker face. Shoot, don't shoot -- impossible to tell, and then --

-- raises her gun at GRINGO...

-- FOOTSTEPS --

As something fills the space behind RENETA..

ESTRELLA (O.S.)	ESTRELLA (O.S.)
Drop it!	Suéltala!

RENETA steadily pulls the trigger... closer and closer --

ESTRELLA (O.S.)	ESTRELLA (O.S.)
Drop the fucking gun, bitch!	Suelta el arma!

RENETA, unflappable, takes her time to lower the gun.

AND THEN --

-- an AR-17 is pressed against RENETA'S skull. Yes -- an assault rifle!

RENETA plays along, drops her gun...

ESTRELLA kicks gun over...

PALOMA's eyes flooded in tears. She goes to run to her mom, when GRINGO pulls her back.

RENETA casually beckons him with her eyes, last chance...

Too late. GRINGO releases PALOMA to her mother. They quickly embrace, and then ESTRELLA gets back into warrior-mode, appraises the situation.

ESTRELLA grabs RENETA's gun, pockets it.

She tosses GRINGO an envelope. It's thick as fuck.

GRINGO eyes the envelope -- uninterested.

ESTRELLA nods, insists GRINGO open it --

He finally does --

GRINGO shuffles through the "many" bills. Easily $20K.

He looks at ESTRELLA... he earned it.

She hands GRINGO his gun back.

She takes PALOMA's hand and disappears into the vast woods.

GRINGO feels his gun as if it's the first time ever touching it... tucks the envelope into the front part of his jeans.

A real-life wild west showdown for what seems like minutes...

RENETA flashes GRINGO a sharp look. A eldritch tinge in her eyes. GRINGO now only a few feet away from her.

RENETA

You stupid, fucking Americans. You think by sending her off with her mom she's now safe!?

She spits in his face. He handles it well. Slowly wipes her saliva off his cheek and nose.

RENETA (V.O.)

You just gave her a death sentence.

GRINGO

I know they took your daughter away, Reneta. But that doesn't mean they will do that with her.

She charges at him. Before she can attack him, he raises the gun up to her head, right between her eyes. Holds it there.

She's manic, seething. He waits until she composes herself; he knows she's strong.

AND THEN --

-- he tosses the ENVELOPE and GUN at RENETA'S feet. He turns on his heel, leisurely walks away from her.

12 FEET AWAY he freezes. Takes in the scenery.

GRINGO (PRE-LAP/V.O)

(from before)

There's one thing you can say about liars, Paloma. They are committed.

103 EXT. COMMUNITY PARKING AREA -- SAME 103

ESTRELLA, PALOMA on the opposite side of park. They rush to a parked compact car. ESTRELLA tosses the assault rifle in the forest. Checks to make sure RENETA's gun is loaded. It is.

ESTRELLA opens door for PALOMA. PALOMA attempts to look back one last time for the GRINGO... And then she hears:

GRINGO (V.O.)
(from before)
If you tell a lie long enough you are committed..
(and then)
... both sides of the border are committed...

CUT TO:

104 EXT/INT. ESTRELLA'S CAR -- MOVING -- SHORTLY AFTER 104

Safety stickers everywhere. This is a rental. ESTRELLA driving. PALOMA in the back.

The sun drips like honey over the mountainside, as their car weaves in and out of lanes...

GRINGO (V.O.)
There is something your little ears will never understand until you are older....

CUT TO:

105 EXT. DESERT - DOUGLAS, ARIZONA -- CONTINUOUS 105

TONY divvies up a load of cash between the TWO BORDER AGENTS from before. All three share a laugh. LARKIN's phone rings. He holds up his "finger". TONY turns away, smiles as he counts his drug earnings.

GRINGO (V.O.)
There are those in Washington that subscribe to the theory that the border is contained. This allows States in far away places to sleep at night...

AGENT LARKIN puts a led bullet through TONY's head...

Each time a new troop is deployed to the border, a new corpse appears.

MATCH CUT TO:

106 EXT. SIERRA VISTA, CAR CANYON FORT -- CONTINUOUS

106

... GRINGO drops to his knees. He's measured, collective. Finishes off the rest of his whiskey; tosses the flask. Back still against RENETA.

RENETA raises the gun at GRINGO. She shivers as she grips the gun. RENETA is falling apart, liquid film around her eye lids, while the Gringo is finally at peace.

She quickly wipes the tears away... readjusts, tightens her grip. She can do this...

CUT TO:

107 INT. VALENTINA'S CAR -- DRIVING -- SAME

107

TITLE CARD: 10 Kilometers from El Ceibo Mexico/Guatemala Border Port.

With one hand on the wheel, VALENTINA uses her other hand to fish around for her passport in the glove box.

GRINGO (V.O.)

Then there are voices in Mexico that assure their people violence only comes to those who do bad things. So if you walk a straight line you will never catch a stray bullet...

VALENTINA rolls up to a stop light.

CAR to her right pulls up. She makes eye contact with the ELDERLY MAN driving.

To her left, a VAN pulls up beside her. An OMINOUS HOODED MAN in the passenger's seat, stares straight ahead. THEN --

-- VAN DOORS slide open. MAN IN SKI MASK wields a REMINGTON R4 ASSAULT RIFLE.

OVER BLACK.

-- THE SOUND OF HUNDREDS OF BULLETS SPRAYING THROUGH VALENTINA'S CAR --

GRINGO (V.O.)

Want the truth?

FADE TO:

108 EXT/INT. CAR -- INLAND CHECKPOINT -- CONTINUOUS

108

TITLE CARD: 30 miles south of Tucson, Arizona.

INLAND CHECK POINT up ahead. ESTRELLA nods for PALOMA to put down backseat, crawl in trunk.

GRINGO (V.O.)
Both sides of the border need the violence. Without it, there would be a lot of people out of business.
(beat)
And that is something neither side of the border can afford.

A pint-sized CHECK POINT. Only TWO BORDER AGENTS working. One is a HISPANIC FEMALE, the other WHITE MALE.

ESTRELLA comes to a complete stop. Rolls down the window. Makes eye contact with the HISPANIC AGENT, secretly praying she's the one that approaches them. Nope.

WHITE AGENT
U.S. Citizen?

ESTRELLA
Mexicana.

She goes to hand him her PASSPORT CARD, but he waves her off.

WHITE AGENT
Bringing anything back?

She nods her head "no".

Mind if I check your trunk?

She pops the trunk from the inside. As he walks to the trunk, she slides the handgun out from under her ass and in between her inner thighs. She palms the weapon... ready...

WHITE AGENT opens hood...

Peers down, seems like forever...

His eyes move from side to side like a rotating fan...

We can hear PALOMA's heartbeat, THEN --

CUT TO:

109

109

RENETA still has gun trained on GRINGO. She's pulled the trigger hundreds of times, but this time she struggles.

RENETA
Why did you have to give the girl to her mom, Gringo!?

GRINGO
 (lightens mood)
 You think they serve whiskey neat in heaven?
 (re: second scene)

LONG BEAT -- we are losing sun rapidly.

GRINGO (CONT)
 For Christ's sake, Reneta, pull the fucking trigger!

TIGHT ON GRINGO -- he can feel her lower the gun. While out of focus, we also see her lower the gun...

STILL ON GRINGO... when:

GRINGO (CONT)
 (eyes wide open)
 So, you wanna know why? The night you came to my house with Letizia. I went to the pawn shop.

A calmness washes over him. Deep breath, then shuts eyes:

POP! POP! POP! POP! POP!

Birds fly every which way!

GRINGO falls in front of us, sucks in the sand... a maroon puddle forms around his head... dead.

ANGLE ON RENETA -- mouth foaming, eyes red as a Merlot. She shoots until she's out of bullets!

She throws the gun; speed walks down the trail, unarmed...

110 EXT. HIKING TRAIL -- PARKING LOT -- CONTINUOUS

110

RENETA walks with urgency down the trail. JORGE spots her.

JORGE
 (nods at her)
 Yeah?

JORGE
 (nods at her)
 Si?

She nods "yes". She's visually shaken. She marches over to JORGE, grabs his arm, turns him to her:

RENETA
Jorge, what does peacock stand for?

RENETA
Jorge, que quiere decir el pavo real?

She sees a reflection in his eyes -- it's not hers.

POP!

RENETA falls forward. Pool of blood. Dead.

ALANA (CIA) holds a smoking gun. Bandage on head/finger.

CUT TO:

111 EXT. INLAND CHECKPOINT -- CONTINUOUS 111

-- WHITE AGENT eyes the inside one last time, then closes the trunk. Taps it twice.

WHITE AGENT #1
You're good to go, Miss.

A sigh of relief from ESTRELLA, PALOMA. They go to leave --

-- HISPANIC AGENT stands in front of their vehicle.

HISPANIC AGENT
(to other Agent)
There's a call for you on line 2.
(to Estrella)
Un minuto.

HISPANIC AGENT
(to other Agent)
There's a call for you on line 2.
(to Estrella)
Un minuto.

WHITE AGENT mumbles under his breath, walks to their tiny box and picks up the phone:

WHITE AGENT #1
What?
(listens)
You told me to let them get to Tucson, someone would be there.

CUT TO:

112 EXT. HIKING TRAIL -- PARKING LOT -- SAME 112

ALANA on phone. JORGE throws RENETA's corpse in the truck.

ALANA
Change of plans. They want the girl back in...
(looks to Jorge)
... Mexico.

WHITE AGENT (V.O.)
What about the mom!?

ALANA
I don't give a fuck! Make her disappear! Just hold on to the fucking girl until we get there!!!!

113 EXT. INLAND CHECKPOINT -- SAME 113

-- CALL DISCONNECTED -- WHITE AGENT lowers phone...

WHITE AGENT
 (under breath)
 Shit.

He shoots a look at ESTRELLA... and then, as if he just drank something cold too fast, blood rushes through his head -- he's freaks out, turns away from them...

GRINGO (V.O.)
 The funny thing is, though, I love
 Ciudad Juárez. She's full of life.

AND THEN -- GUN FIRE!!!

HE TURNS --

-- ESTRELLA'S rental car descends into the sunset...

FADE TO:

114 FLASHBACK -- INT. CAR -- ABANDONED LOT -- NIGHT

114

GRINGO's head rested against his hands. PALOMA'S eyes still tightly shut. He turns to look at PALOMA:

GRINGO
 You are Juárez, Paloma.
 (he turns away)
 Ensure she continues to shine...

PALOMA's eyes now wide open...

FADE TO BLACK.

'DE GRINGO A LA TUMBA'

'FROM GRINGO TO GRAVE'
